Karnataka to up booster vaxx drive, increase coverage from 21% to 50% by January

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

IN the backdrop of rising Covid-19 cases in some countries, the Karnataka Health Department on Monday issued guidelines mandating people to wear masks at all indoor events and outdoor New Year celebrations. The department also decided to allow New Year celebrations only till 1 am.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka, who is also the vice-chairperson of the State Disaster Management Committee, convened a meeting on Covid-19 preparedness in the state, which was attended by Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar. "Karnataka has been proactive in handling Covid-19 cases. We have directed hospitals to be ready by stocking up medicine and oxygen plants to handle any resurgence in Covid-19 cases", Ashoka said after the meeting in Belagavi on Monday.

Dr Sudhakar said that 2 per cent random testing of international passengers will be done at Bengaluru and Mangaluru airports. The health minister said that the BF.7 variant that is causing the surge in China was detected a year ago in India and requested the public not to panic.

He said that booster dose vaccination drive will be accelerated so that the coverage improves from the existing 21 per cent to 50 per cent by January.

As per the guidelines, those above 60 years of age and having comorbidities, and pregnant and lactating women have been advised to avoid large gatherings. The government decided to allow people entry at gatherings only after thermal screening. Those with fever and respiratory symptoms will be referred to seek medical consultation.

Also, the international passengers arriving in Bengaluru and Mangaluru airports who are symptomatic, will be taken to Bowring Hospital in Bengaluru and Wenlock Hospital in Mangaluru or the nearest private hospital for quarantine and treatment. International passengers who give sample for RT-PCR test have been asked to remain under home-quarantine till the result is out or get admitted to the designated medical facility (government or private) if they develop symptoms. If the result is positive and the patient is symptomatic, he/she will be shifted to a designated medical facility.

Samples of passengers sent for sequencing

Samples of 12 international passengers, who tested positive during screening at Kempegowda International Airport, have been sent for genomic sequencing, whose results are expected after a week or so. This includes the sample of a passenger who had arrived from China. P3

China passenger sends BBMP into a tizzy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE news of a transit passenger from China arriving in Bengaluru, who had reportedly tested positive for Covid-19, sent the government and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) officials into a tizzy. The passenger landed at Bengaluru airport and then flew to Agra.

On Monday morning, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girnath said that details of the passenger testing positive for Covid-19 were awaited. As the day progressed, the BBMP and the State Health Department held a series of meetings through the day to ascertain more details.

Dr KV Thrilok Chandra, BBMP Special Commissioner, Health, said that the person who tested positive in Agra was a transit passenger at Bengaluru airport. He said that BBMP has sought more details from the airport authorities about the passenger. In the meantime, BBMP officials said that on December 10, a Bengalurean who had returned from Hong Kong was tested positive for Covid. Chandra said that his samples have been sent for genome sequencing and reports are awaited. P3,5

ZELENSKYY CALLS MODI, SEEKS HELP IN PEACE PUSH

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

A day after Russian President Vladimir Putin said he was ready for talks with Ukraine, its President Volodymyr Zelenskyy spoke with Prime Minister Narendra Modi on the phone and sought India's help for restoring peace.

"I had a phone call with PM Modi and wished a successful G20 presidency. It was on this platform that I announced the peace formula and now I count on India's participation in its implementation. I also thanked for humanitarian aid and support in the UN," Zelenskyy later tweeted. The call came days after Modi spoke to Putin.

Modi reiterated his call for an immediate cessation of hostilities and said both Russia and Ukraine should revert to dialogue and diplomacy. "Modi also conveyed India's support for any peace efforts and assured India's commitment to continue providing humanitarian assistance to the affected civilian population," the foreign office said.

While both sides want an exit from war, whether it will happen anytime soon is uncertain. For, Putin and Zelenskyy have preconditions that are not acceptable to each other.

"The fact is that we do not have a clear picture of the political, military and economic situation on the ground," said former Ambassador to Russia, P S Raghavan.

Ukraine foreign minister Dmytro Kuleba said his government is aiming to have a peace summit by February-end, preferably at the UN with secretary general Antonio Guterres as possible mediator. As for US President Joe Biden, he said it was up to Zelenskyy on how he wanted the war to end.

Modi also spoke about the priorities of India's G20 presidency, including giving a voice to the concerns of developing nations. He requested Ukraine to facilitate arrangements for the continued education of Indian students who had returned home earlier this year.

RAIL PROJECTS

Corruption case against Lalu reopened

AMIT MUKHERJEE & RAMASHANKAR @New Delhi/Patna

THE CBI is taking a fresh look at its probe against RJD chief and former Bihar CM Lalu Prasad Yadav in a railway projects allocation bribery case, investigations into which were stalled last year due lack of sufficient evidence.

Lalu is at present recuperating in a Singapore hospital following kidney transplant.

The matter dates back to the time when Lalu held the railways portfolio in the UPA-I government. It is being reexamined in the wake of a chargesheet filed by the CBI in October last against Lalu, his wife Rabri and 14 others in an alleged land-for-jobs scam.

Lalu is alleged to have received a south Delhi property as bribe from real estate major DLF Group, which was interested in rail land lease projects in Mumbai's Bandra and the revamp of the New Delhi railway station.

The property was allegedly bought by a DLF-funded shell company AB Exports for ₹5 crore against the then market rate of ₹30 crore. AB Exports was then allegedly bought by Lalu's son Tejashwi, now deputy CM of Bihar, and daughters Chanda and Ragini, for a mere ₹4 lakh by a transfer of shares, giving them ownership of the south Delhi bungalow.

Bihar RJD chief Jagdanand Singh said the BJP was trying to frame Lalu by reopening the case and accused it of political victimisation. State BJP V-P Mithilesh Tiwari claimed the CBI was an independent agency and was not under the influence of anybody.

'Prevent infodemic, share only verified info'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

AT a time when a section of medical experts have expressed doubts over the need for the government's heightened efforts to prevent yet another Covid wave in light of the highly transmissible BF.7 variant, Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Monday warned against an 'infodemic'. He urged healthcare professionals to rely on only authentic and verified information.

"The Ministry has been sharing information on various aspects of Covid prevention and management," he said while virtually interacting with about 100 doctors from across the country and members of Indian Medical Association.

Meanwhile, India saw a single-day rise of 196 new infections, while the active cases increased to 3,428, according to latest data.

On Monday, four international tourists — two each from Myanmar and Bangkok — tested positive in Bihar. Following this, the state government sealed the hotels in which the tourists were staying as a precautionary measure.

In Bengal, two persons, including a British national, tested positive at the Kolkata airport. The Britisher is kept in isolation but the Indian, who returned from Bangkok, managed to slip away and is reportedly missing.

The Centre has asked all states to hold a mock drill on Tuesday to check the preparedness of their health facilities to deal with any spurt in infections. Cautious authorities have already started encouraging the use of masks with Karnataka making it mandatory in schools, colleges and at places where crowds gather for New Year celebrations.

Keep knives sharpened at home: Pragya to Hindus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Shivamogga

BJP MP from Madhya Pradesh Sadhvi Pragya Singh Thakur stoked a controversy by asking Hindus to keep knives sharpened at home to use them against those who attack them. She was addressing a convention of Hindu Jagarana Vedike in Shivamogga on Sunday.

"Hindus have the right to respond to those who attack them and their dignity," she said. "They have a tradition of jihad and if nothing else, they do love jihad. Even if they love, they do jihad in that. We (Hindus) too love, love the god ... a sanyasi loves his god," she said.

Videocon's Dhoot held in ₹3k crore loan fraud case

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

THE CBI on Monday arrested Videocon group founder Venugopal Dhoot, 71, in connection with a loan fraud case in which former ICICI Bank MD & CEO Chanda Kochhar and her husband Deepak are already in the agency's custody.

Dhoot was produced in a special court in Mumbai, which sent him to three-day CBI custody till Wednesday. The court also extended the custody of Kochhars, who were arrested on Friday after questioning, till Wednesday.

While seeking Dhoot's remand and the remand extension of the Kochhar couple, the CBI stated that the three will be confronted and questioned together.

The case is related to irregularities in ICICI Bank's loan disbursements amounting to over ₹3,000 crore to Videocon group firms between 2009 and 2011. Kochhar was charged with criminal conspiracy and cheating for the alleged irregularities in a loan extended to the Videocon group in 2012, which turned NPA.

The loan was sanctioned to the Videocon group when Chanda Kochhar was the chief of ICICI Bank. The loan was later moved to the non-performing asset (NPA), causing over ₹1,750 crore loss to the bank, according to the CBI.

The central agency alleged that when Chanda Kochhar took charge of ICICI Bank, six loans were sanctioned to various companies of the Videocon Group, out of which at least two loans were sanctioned by committees where she was a member. In other instances, she influenced the committees to sanction loans to the group, the CBI added.

HC transfers poachgate probe to CBI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

IN what could be a shot in the arm for the BJP, a single-judge bench of the Telangana High Court on Monday ordered the transfer of the BRS MLAs poachgate case to the CBI.

However, the judge put the order on hold at the request of Advocate General B S Prasad to enable the state government to file an appeal before a division bench of the high court.

The case involves attempts to lure four BRS MLAs to the BJP. It was alleged that the accused offered ₹100 crore to BRS MLA Pilot Rohith Reddy and ₹50 crore to three other party MLAs to switch to the BJP.

The court also quashed GO 62 under which a Special Investigation Team (SIT) was constituted by the BRS government to probe the case. If the order is upheld, the SIT's heat on the alleged accused would dissipate.

The SIT had served notices on BJP general secretary B L Santosh and others to appear before it, on which the court had issued a stay till December 30. It had also issued lookout notices against Kerala doctor Jaggu Swamy and BDJS president Thushar Vellapally.

As for the BRS in the state, entrusting the case to the CBI is a serious setback in its attempt to go after the BJP. Till now the state government was the hunter while the BJP was the hunted. It is not known if the roles would reverse from now on.

Justice B Vijaysen Reddy pronounced the order on the petitions filed by the accused priest Ramchandra Bharati, pontiff Simhayaji and restaurant-owner Nandu Kumar that they did not have faith in the SIT probe. Though BJP leader T Premender Reddy's petition was similar, it was not allowed because the BJP is a third party in the dispute.

Forest dept goes digital to avert man-elephant conflict

B THIPPERUDRAPPA @Chikkamagaluru

THE Chikkamagaluru division of Forest Department has come up with an innovative plan to avert conflicts between villagers and elephants. It has decided to take the help of technology by installing digital display boards and starting SMS service to caution residents and visitors to Mudigere taluk about the movement of wild elephants.

An Elephant Task Force led by DCFO N E Kranthi, with Mudigere as the headquarters, has been set up. Mudigere MLA MP Kumaraswamy on Saturday officially declared open the service. He released billboards and posters carrying details of the measures being taken by the task force.

Those entering the taluk and its surroundings can reach out to the task force on the contact number 7204004261, which will be displayed on the boards and posters, following which they will start receiving alerts.

The digital display boards will be installed at vulnerable places in Mudigere taluk like Handpost, Baiduvalli, Bhairapura, Gowdahalli, Mekanagadde, Gutti, Chegu, Gonibeedu, Kundur and Gabgal.

Meanwhile, members of the Bhadra Wildlife Conservation Trust DV Girish and S Girijashankar in a statement attributed the rise in man-animal conflicts to the obstruction posed to the path of the migrating elephants as these animals are prone to move in search of food. They also stated that the brewing of illicit liquor in the thick forest of Malnad region was drawing elephants closer to human habitations.

8-yr-old girl gets stitches in face after dog attack

Father too bit, BBMP to cover medical cost

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

AN eight-year-old girl and her father were attacked by a street dog at Lakshmidevi Nagar in BBMP limits on Sunday night.

According to initial reports from the BBMP, when the child, Nurin Falak, was out with her father Fakruddin late evening, the dog chased and attacked her. When her father rushed to help her, even he was bit by the dog. He has received an anti-rabies injection.

According to Manjunath Shinde, Assistant Director, BBMP Animal Husbandry Department, the child has sustained injuries for which "she has received stitches on her face and neck region and is out of danger. We will reimburse the treatment cost and also give Rs 10,000 as compensation."

"The dog is fed by house owners in the surrounding area, but we cannot find the dog. Fearing that the dog would be caught, the owners have left it somewhere. We do not know if the dog was sterilised and vaccinated," said a senior official.

Animal welfare activists blamed the failure of Animal Birth Control programme by BBMP for the incident. Activist Sujaya Jagadish said she had been to the RR Nagar Animal Birth Control Centre and found it was not running at its full capacity. "The centre is built of footpaths and does not have a spacious kennel. Due to shortage of staff, space and finances, the NGOs are unable to pick dogs for surgery, and so, therer is an increase in number of street dog attacks," she said.

Activists said animal birth control process should be a continuous process.

MLA ensures residents near toll get free passage

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

RESIDENTS of the posh residential complex at Marasandra, located within 2 km of a toll plaza, had to pay Rs 70 whenever they went to Yelahanka through this toll gate. This is in violation of the rules which state that those residing within a radius of 5 km of the toll gates on National and State highways do not have to pay the charge. Following the intervention of Yelahanka MLA S R Vishwanath, around 3,500 residents were given free access from December 26.

Residents of Provident Welworth City (PWC) are relieved as they have to use the Kadthanamala toll gate on Doddaballapur main road, on the state highway to enter Yelahanka, and return home. They have been paying Rs 70 both ways in cash or Rs 45 for FasTag users, residents told TNIE. The toll system is a PPP model with the state government partnering with Ramalinga constructions.

"The contractor permitted villagers within the 5-km radius to avail free access. We, who stay in apartment complexes, were told it does not apply to us. However, there is no such rule against apartment dwellers, and we have vehemently opposed it. A major dharna was stage, but the contractor did not relent," said a resident.

On Saturday, representatives of RWA met the MLA, who directed the contractor that no toll charge should be collected from PWC residents, said an association member.

A house owner alleged, "The MLA is showing responsibility as a goodwill gesture as the elections are approaching."

"I have been residing in the area over the last 11 years. It is a repetition of what happened before the elections 10 years ago. We would have to pay the charges for four years, and just before the elections, the exemption will happen," said another house owner.

Vishwanath confirmed he has spoken to the contractor, requesting exemption for the residents, and he agreed to it. He denied allegations of election-related appeasement, and said, "I keep visiting the villagers in my constituency. I have a strong bond with people of my constituency and resolve their grievances."

BJP's Bengaluru North district secretary of Kisan Morcha, R Ashok Kumar was busy verifying the credentials of the apartment complex residents. "Many are IT professionals who have moved into the area from north India. They don't have voter ID or Aadhaar cards with their present address which the contractor wanted as proof. Now, I am personally verifying the families who reside in the area to ensure they do not have to pay the charges," he said.

The contractor did not respond to multiple calls.

150 workers fired, stir on

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AROUND 150 workers protested outside the premises of the Yazaki India Pvt Ltd factories in Bengaluru on Monday, after they were allegedly terminated without any prior notice.

The workers alleged that they were stopped at the gates of the factory in Lakkenahalli, and as they have been terminated. Initially, 53 workers were prevented from entering the premises on December 13, as they were terminated, after which, the terminated workers, along with 100 other workers, launched a protest outside the gates.

On December 14, 100 other workers were also terminated, allegedly without notice, taking the tally up to 153 terminated workers. "In solidarity with the terminated workers, 100 workers had protested, who were terminated the very next day. Now the workers have decided to protest till Wednesday, after which there is a consolation meeting with Deputy Labour Commissioner," said Arindham R, a district committee member for the All India Central Council of Trade Unions (AICCTU), under whose umbrella the workers are protesting.

Following their termination, the workers formed their own unit under the Karnataka General Labour Union (KGLU), called the Yazaki Worker's union. The automobile workers were employed by the Japanese company for two years. "In the company, the workers have faced several issues including no minimum wage, overtime pay, and being forced to work in two to three consecutive shifts, with many of them working 24 hours straight. Workers had also not received their pay slips, and women workers have also complained of harassment by those from the management," said Arindham.

IISc TO BE G20 SCIENCE GROUP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has been announced as the Secretariat for Science 20 (S20), the G20 summit's science working group.

With India's presidency at the G20, IISc Bengaluru, has announced that it will be serving as the secretariat for S20. "Over the years G20 has been working towards addressing other global challenges as well, such as climate change mitigation and sustainable development. In a bid to work towards this purpose, it has set up several working groups, one of which is Science 20 or S20," IISc said in a statement.

IISc stated that S20 will play a key role in helping resolve global issues like poverty and bring together the developments made by the G20 member states for development. "Science have to play a key role to achieve economic growth required to uplift millions of people out of poverty while, at the same time, ensuring that development is inclusive and sustainable. But scientific advancements alone are not enough. Meaningful development requires the cooperation of member nations so that experiences and breakthroughs in science and technology can be shared with each other," they said.

S20 will be a platform for addressing issues like climate change and sustainable development in G20 nations. According to IISc, S20 2023 theme is 'Disruptive Science for Innovative and Sustainable Development', under which many deliberations will be held through the year in Agartala, Lakshadweep and Bhopal. "The deliberations will focus on three sets of issues: Universal holistic health, clean energy for greener future, and connecting science to society and culture. The consultations will also include an inception meeting in Puducherry and a summit meeting in Coimbatore," the institute said.

As per the analysis, Bengaluru ranked second in the country with the highest number of rides only after Delhi. However, Bengaluru is among the top five cities in terms of the slowest average speeds clocked on the roads and is in the third position after Hyderabad and Chennai and followed by Guwahati and Kolkata. Chandigarh has topped the chart in the fastest cities category.

'Research will be hit if BU students teach'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Bangalore University Guest Faculty Forum has demanded the intervention of the state government after Bangalore University's decision to split the work of faculty by allowing research students to teach.

On December 20, BU announced that research scholars or PhD students, who receive scholarships from the university, will be allotted certain teaching hours, to split the work of permanent faculty. The decision was discussed in a syndicate meeting on October 31, and interviews were done between December 22 and 26.

Criticising the decision, the Guest Faculty Forum stated that it is not only unethical but also the consent of the department chairpersons were not taken. "Government allocates funds for research, which is being misused for the purpose of teaching. This decision will result in the deterioration of academic standards due to the inexperience and insufficient knowledge of research scholars in lieu with the experience of the guest faculty," the forum stated.

In a letter written to the governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, the forum demanded action against those who have taken the decision. "One will need to study the syllabus rather than focus on research, which will lead to irrepairable damage to the future of scholars, masters students,," they stated.

Skip visit for clearance, postal exports go digital

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Postal Department, in partnership with the Customs Department, has relaxed the process of exports by post, and has done away with the need to make a mandatory visit to the Foreign Post Office in Chamarajpet. It has introduced digital filing of customs documentation. Also, it has launched local offices in three cities for personal visits with two more in the offing.

One of the three Dak Ghar Niryath Kendras in Dharwad for international parcels

Chief Postmaster General, Karnataka Circle, S Rajendra Kumar, told TNIE, "Commercial companies can now despatch retail orders to foreign countries through the Dak Ghar Niryath Kendras (or local head post offices) that have been set up in Channapatna, Dharwad and Belagavi. Two more offices will be set up in Bidar and Vijayapura."

This will bring relief to businesses which had to physically visit the FPO in Belagavi or in Mysuru to get their consignment cleared, he said.

Though a trial run of the process was done some years ago, it did not receive enough publicity. "It has been launched completely in December. There is an online portal for digital filing of booking information and customs documentation. Exporters will be able to register and upload documents online without visiting the FPO," he explained.

The proof of export order will also be available for download in the portal for the exporter to claim export benefits. "Exporters will benefit immensely from the move," he said.

Sajan Subramani, a customer at JP Nagar, who has been sending parcels to the US, said in a video statement, "I have been using the portal for sometime now. The overall experience starting from registration to booking of parcels has been good."

This was a mutually-beneficial venture, the CPMG said. "Customers save time and money spent on travelling, and we are also getting more bookings because the process has been made easier," he added.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

27TH December: Did you read the news that we have discovered a series of planets just like the Earth, up to four million light years away? I wonder what sort of astrology they have with a completely different sky! Not that it matters, of course. We'll never be able to visit, at least, not without a super time-machine. And that's not happening soon!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It certainly should be a secretive day. In fact, it will do you good to spend a little time in quiet meditation. If this is impossible, you will probably find your mind wandering off into endless day-dreams. But, then, perhaps your imagination holds the answers to age-old questions?

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Delicate planetary alignments provide a veil which may obscure the stormy emotions beneath. An additional social gathering or romantic encounter will certainly take your mind off more pressing problems. Any temporary diversion or distraction will cheer you up.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You seem to have a better idea of what went wrong, and how to put it right. Your will to succeed will be strong, but what you need out of a work situation varies. Today, it looks as if your real priority will be a sense of community, the feeling that everyone is working towards a common goal.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your lunar alignments really are splendid today, a fact which should more than compensate for recent disturbances or upsets. You are still in danger, though, of letting your feelings run away with you. If you're too sensitive then you might imagine that someone's trying to get at you, even though they're not!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Something still seems to be very secret, so much so that even you might be in the dark. It may be too late to stop one particular course of action, but firm agreements may be deferred for another five days. You have to wait until you're absolutely certain.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The entire situation is in a state of flux, but you may find that when people change their minds it doesn't affect what happens. Just carry on in your own discreet way and nobody should bother you. And, if someone pours cold water on your ideas, it doesn't mean that you're wrong.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Mercury is soon to shift its position again, meaning that your golden time for interviews, conferences and meetings is coming to an end. The deeper indications reveal that by the end of the week you will have to impress people with the breadth of your knowledge rather than the depth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
People at work are bound to find you more congenial if you make a dramatic switch from criticising their weaknesses to praising their strengths. The funny thing is that one is as true as the other, it's just that, with the latter, you will get what you want! Diplomacy always works best.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Home and family affairs should take priority now and over the coming two days. Fortunately, there are no indications of crisis or trauma, just pleasant signs that the more you get done now the happier you'll be. If you put off the inevitable then you'll only delay awkward questions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Partners are not always as reliable as you'd like. There does seem to be a very real indication that someone is about to change their minds or drop out of an arrangement. If you sense that something is wrong, you would do well to take the initiative and call a halt right now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Spare a little time for financial affairs, nothing important, mind you, just the inevitable paperwork and purchases. That might sound tedious, but don't worry because, on a personal note, your chart is still looking nicely volcanic! Expect fireworks soon –in a good way!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Remember, Pisces, ultimately you're in control. It is up to you to make the appropriate choices and influence the course of events. The only way out of a current impasse may be to quietly disappear and fade out of the scene. However, if you do want out, there is no time to flap around.

BBMP steps up Covid-19 preparedness

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH the Covid scare looming large, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has increased its preparedness to contain the spread of the coronavirus in case there is a spike. Speaking to reporters on Monday, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the Palike held talks with the private hospital association and will now apprise the state health department over its way forward.

"Right now, 418 hospitals with 30-bed capacity have been identified. We will submit a report to the health department on the status of beds, ICU units, and oxygen on Tuesday evening," said Girinath, adding that from Tuesday, mock drills across BBMP limits are planned.

As there is a focus on covering more people under the booster dose drive, the chief commissioner said he attended a video conference with the Technical Advisory Committee and stressed that its directions will be followed in BBMP limits. "We have assured the committee that the BBMP will now administer one lakh booster doses at the earliest," said Girinath, informing that 60 per cent of the city's population is yet to get a booster dose.

The chief commissioner further stated that about 14 lakh people fall in the above 60-years age bracket, frontline workers and hospital staff, of whom 8.40 lakh have been administered the booster dose. Over six lakh population are, however, yet to receive the booster.

Girinath also stated that in the TAC meeting, BBMP was asked to increase testing. At present, the Palike is covering a population of 1,500 a day for random Covid testing, which will be increased in the coming days due to Covid new variant scare.

'Seen 30 Omicron variants, herd immunity our strength'

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

EXPERTS, virologists and members of the Indian Sars-Cov2 Genomics Consortium (INSACOG) have stated that the country has seen around 30 variants of Omicron and the new one is not a matter of concern the way it is being termed. They added that herd immunity is our strength in combating any new variant, except for the incidence of any new virus, apart from Omicron, being reported from China.

Noted virologist Dr Anita S Desai told The New Indian Express that so far, four cases of the new Omicron variant have been reported in India, in Gujarat and Odisha. "We do not know much about the new variant. But the cases have not been severe. There is nothing to worry, since over 30 variants of Omicron have been detected so far, and we are all well-protected. Mutations keep happening, but whether it is virulent or more invasive is what now needs to be seen," she said.

Since almost everyone has been vaccinated with two doses and most people have taken the booster, the fear of hospitalisation is less.

"Besides, we have built herd immunity, which is our strength," she said.

Infection rising in winter

Allaying fears that cases of viral infection and Covid-19 are usually seen rising in winter, she explained that rain has no impact on the virus, but cases rise as it effects immunity. Hence, following guidelines is the way out.

In the meantime, another INSACOG member said, "So far, our immunity is effective with all Omicron variants. But our worry will rise, if any new variant, which is not Omicron, is reported and is circulating in China, while not being reported. We need to keep a close watch on this. Genome sequencing of all samples is the way forward in addressing this issue. The government also needs to enhance surveillance and booster coverage."

Samples of 12 int'l Covid positives sent for genome sequencing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SAMPLES of 12 international passengers, who have tested positive during the screening at Kempegowda International Airport, have been sent for genomic sequencing, whose results are expected after a week or so. This includes the sample of a passenger who had arrived from China.

Only after the results come out from Indian Sars-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium (INSACOG), it can be confirmed if the sample has a highly transmissible BF.7 variant that is driving the spread in China or throw up any new variant of concern (VOC), sources from the state's health department said. "Usually, INSACOG takes around 7-10 working days to test samples and send reports," the source said. Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar tweeted that in the month of December (till 24th), 2,867 passengers were tested at KIA, of whom 12 have tested positive.

"Looking at China's position and our experience in the past, we have to take proactive measures, which the state government is doing. They have accepted the recommendations of the TAC and have been taking Covid containment measures," said Dr M K Sudarshan, Chairman of the Covid-19 TAC.

PALIKE ON HIGH ALERT

However, his family and other primary and secondary contacts were traced and tested and all of them were found negative. Until the genome sequencing reports come, a close watch is being kept in the area, the BBMP officials said. The BBMP officials said that the civic agency is on high alert. "The report of the China passenger coming to India and transiting to Agra from Bengaluru has been cross-verified and so far there is no data to establish that he directly came from China and was tested positive," said an official.

Top brass tells CM to hold all-party meet on quota

No question of deadline on Panchamasali demand; Injustice should not be done to backward classes: Bommai

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who held a marathon meeting with BJP national president JP Nadda and Union Home Minister Amit Shah at New Delhi late on Monday evening, said he will decide on the demand of Panchamasalis for 2A reservation category and opposition for it from the backward classes, after holding an all-party meeting.

With this, Congress and JDS will have to have a say on the contentious issue.

"The discussion was around the tour programme in January of national leaders, including Nadda, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Shah and Rajnath Singh. Also, the reservation issue that was raked up in the ensuing winter session was discussed. Nadda asked me to give social justice to the concerned, but keeping in view the party's policy. I gave all the details and Nadda said he will speak directly with those demanding the quota," Bommai said.

Following Nadda's advice, Bommai said he will hold a meeting with BJP senior leaders and cabinet ministers in a couple of days and later an all-party meeting to take the final decision.

On Panchamasalis setting a deadline, he said there is no question of it, as the interim report of the state backward classes commission has reached the government and the announcement will be made after holding the all-party meeting as its many dimensions have to be discussed. "We should keep in mind the sensitivity of the issue as there might be aspirations from a community, but injustice should not be meted out to backward classes," he said.

"Backward classes have over hundred castes and 200 sub-castes and it's a complex issue that should be solved with a scientific approach and with experts' reports," he said.

On expanding his cabinet, Bommai said a detailed discussion was held and he gave information about the representation of different communities and regions in the cabinet. The decision will be taken soon, he added. "They will let me know soon. We have moved two steps ahead as compared to my last visit," he said.

Bommai said Shah will take part in a public rally in Mandya on December 30 and will meet party functionaries in Bengaluru on December 31.

The repercussions of former minister Gali Janardhana Reddy launching his new political party was also discussed.

Shah advised Bommai to maintain restraint on the Karnataka-Maharashtra border row, as the case is before the Supreme Court.

Stone quarry, crusher industry refuses to buckle

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

The stone quarry and crusher industry, which has been shut for the last five days, has rejected the government's plea to reopen, even though Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy announced in the Assembly on Monday that an all-party meeting will be convened to discuss issues related to the industry.

Ravindra Shetty, president of the Federation of Karnataka Quarry and Stone Crusher Owners' Association, said, "We have raised a few issues, including one nation, one tax which our PM Narendra Modi has spoken about. The government has collected royalty and revenues from the industry earlier, and how can they collect double royalty and revenue now? They should not impose any additional burden on us. The laws and rules need to be suitably amended. They have to decide this in the cabinet and bring out a gazette notification complying with our demands. Till such time, our protest will continue and the quarries and crushers will remain closed."

He said, "The government has got the Karnataka Remote Sensing authorities to carry out a study. We want them to conduct the exercise again. We will reopen after they comply. We are going ahead with a massive protest on December 28. We also want to inform Union Minister Nitin Gadkari about this standoff."

Stone quarries and crushers have stopped operating over the royalty and revenue issues, causing a severe shortage of construction material in the market. The protest has also severely affected development works.

On Monday, the issue was raised by Congress MLA Krishna Byre Gowda in the Assembly, saying the government in 2017 imposed a penalty of 1:5, based on how much of mineral was extracted, and only around Rs 500 crore was collected. If the ratio is brought down to 1:1, the government can increase its revenue collection to Rs 1,000 crore, he suggested. Some units that were fined smaller amounts have paid, while those with bigger penalties have chosen to evade payments, he pointed out.

Madu Swamy said, "We will find it difficult to waive off this huge amount of money. We can call an all-party meeting to decide on the issue. I will inform the chief minister."

Mid-year review paints rosy picture of state's finances

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

THE mid-year review of Karnataka's finances for 2022- 23 highlighted that the state has demonstrated strong economic recovery from the pandemic-induced slowdown by registering a 9.5 per cent growth.

The report, tabled in the Assembly on Monday, pointed to the provisional estimates of National Statistical Office data and mentioned that the state's revenue collections have increased by 10 per cent and GST collections shot up by 30 per cent in the first half of 2022-23 compared to the previous year.

The state has also managed to reduce inflation from 6.39 per cent in April 2022 to 5.81 per cent in September 2022, below the 7.4 per cent national inflation during the period.

Karnataka is among the top states that attracted Foreign Direct Investments (FDI), receiving Rs 21,480 crore in the first quarter of the present financial year, according to the report.

However, the global economic slowdown is likely to have an adverse impact on the Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP), which is dominated by export-oriented service sector.

"The fiscal deficit for 2022-23 has been revised at 2.82 per cent of GSDP and revenue deficit at 0.67 per cent of GSDP for the state with a total budget size of Rs 2,65,720 crore. The fiscal deficit of 2.82 per cent of GSDP is well within the permissible limit of 3 per cent," the report stated.

> — Report

The total revenue of the state in the first six months of the financial year 2022-23 is Rs 1,00,330 crore. Of this, the state's own tax revenue is Rs 75,368 crore, including GST compensation of Rs 8,633 crore. The devolution from the Union government and the grant-in-aid stood at Rs 13,717 crore and Rs 5,521 crore, respectively.

The state's own tax revenue collection and non-tax revenue collections for the first half of 2022-23 has increased compared to the same period during the last fiscal "This shows the economy is on the recovery path. For the first half of 2022-23, the revenue collection is at an estimated 57 per cent as against 54 per cent in 2021-22. The overall revenue has increased by 10 per cent compared to the previous year, it said.

At the same time, the Total Outstanding Liabilities (TOL) of the state is expected to increase from Rs 4,57,899 crore in 2021-22 to Rs 5,18,366 crore in 2022-23.

Assembly clears Bill to increase reservation for SC/STs

The Karnataka Assembly on Monday unanimously passed the Karnataka Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Reservation of seats in educational institutions and of appointments or posts in the services under the state) Bill which aims to increase the quantum of reservation for SCs in education and jobs from 15% to 17% and for STs from 3% to 7%. Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy tabled the Bill which was welcomed by members cutting across party lines followed by a marathon debate over the issues related to the problems faced by SCs/STs. ENS

Land and border area development bills passed

The Karnataka Border Area Development Authority (Amendment) Bill 2022 and Karnataka Land Revenue (Second Amendment) Bill 2022 were passed in the Council on Monday after a debate. The Bills were already cleared by the Assembly. Leader of Opposition in Council BK Hariprasad alleged that the land bill, which makes provisions to convert land use within seven days, is only to help land grabbers and real-estate developers. Revenue Minister R Ashoka said that the Bill has been brought to eliminate middlemen while applying and getting orders for land conversion. ENS

Oppn attacks state govt over Jaleel murder

The murder of shop owner Abdul Jaleel in Surathkal in Dakshina Kannada echoed in the Assembly on Monday with the opposition cornering the government over increasing moral policing incidents in the district. Raising the matter during the zero hour, Congress leader UT Khader said communal forces are ruling the state, and urged the government to bring the culprits to book. "Dakshina Kannada has been witnessing rise in vigilantism. This will become worse if no action is taken," he said. Leader of the opposition Siddaramaiah pointed out how minor issues are blown out of proportion and blamed Hindu outfit Bajrang Dal. ENS

Govt sets aside Rs 300cr for '23 poll preparation

ENS @Belagavi

THE state government has set aside Rs 300 crore for the preparation of the 2023 Assembly elections. The fund is a portion of the second instalment of supplementary estimates tabled by the state government in the Assembly on Monday.

Among the major allocations in supplementary estimates was an outlay of Rs 638.08 crore for various flood-relief activities. Of the amount, Rs 500 crore was earmarked towards the outstanding amount as state grant for compensation of crops damaged due to floods in 2022 and Rs 124 crore for infrastructure works under the State Disaster Relief Fund.

For the salary expenditure of staff and officers of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike, the state government has earmarked Rs 200 crore. Under the special assistance to states for land acquisition for the NHAI-Bengaluru Ring Road Project of 288 km, an additional amount of Rs 86.9 crore was provided, according to the supplementary estimate.

To improve the infrastructure at government schools and colleges, Rs 150 crore was sanctioned for construction and repair works of classrooms.The supplementary estimates amounted to Rs 8,001.13 crore, which included charged expenditure - made from the Consolidated Fund of India of Rs 1,806.18 crore, and voted expenditure spent using states' funds of Rs 6,194.95 crore.

185 cybercrime cases booked in 2022: Araga

SUNIL PATIL @ Belagavi

IN all, 185 cases were registered in Karnataka under the Indian Penal Code, Information Technology Act and Intermediary Rules 2011 and 2022 against those posting intimate, vulgar and anti-social videos and posts on social media.

Since cybercrimes are on the rise, the government has set up eight cyber crime police stations in Bengaluru alone and units in every city and district headquarters. To handle such cases, police officers are being trained at the National Forensic Sciences University in Gujarat, said Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, answering a question from MLC PR Ramesh during the question hour in the Council.

Ramesh said that while questions are being raised on the "saffron bikini" across the country, videos, reels and photographs that are more vulgar are being posted on social media. Children who are supposed to use phones for studies are exposed to sexual content on social media, he said, adding that not even 1 per cent of the accused arrested under IT Act have been punished so far.

In all, 21 cases were booked in 2018, 51 in 2019, 130 in 2020, 175 in 2021 and 185 in 2022. A total of 80,379 grievances from victims of cyber thefts and other cyber crimes have been reported in the National Cyber Crime Reporting portal, Jnanendra said.

With Union Home Minister Amit Shah giving the approval, an FSL university will come up in Karnataka and more cyber experts will be ready to handle such cases, he said.

2 rowdies among 3 held in Jaleel murder case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mangaluru

THE Mangaluru City Police on Monday arrested three persons in connection with the brutal murder of Abdul Jaleel (43), owner of a fancy shop in Surathkal. The accused are Shailesh (21) from Naithangadi in Krishnapura; Savin Kanchan alias Munna (24) from Hejamady, and Pavan alias Pacchu (23) from Katipalla. They were handed over to 10-day police custody.

Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar told reporters that Shailesh and Savin were the assailants, while Pavan helped them escape on his bike after the crime. Search is on for a few more persons involved in the crime.

So far, the police have questioned over 12 people, including a few women. The commissioner said the motive behind the murder is still not clear and only a detailed investigation will bring out the truth. Police are also investigating if there was personal enmity. Police sources said the victim was in an affair with a woman from a different faith for many years and the assailants were opposed to it. The accused, along with some locals, had also warned Jaleel to stay away from the woman.

A few weeks ago, there was a heated exchange between Jaleel and one of the accused over the same issue. On the day of the incident, Shailesh and Jaleel had an altercation following which the former called his friends and they together hatched a plan to eliminate Jaleel.

Shailesh and Savin stabbed Jaleel in front of his fancy shop at Katipalla fourth block in Surathkal after which Pavan took them to Surathkal on his bike. From there, they went to Kaup and spent the night at a lodge and were planning to escape to Mumbai when the police nabbed them. Shailesh and Savin are rowdy sheeters and were involved in the murder of another rowdy sheeter Pinky Nawaz in 2021.

BIKE RIDING BANNED

Prohibitory orders have been clamped in Surathkal, Panambur, Bajpe and Kavoor police station limits till 6 am on December 27. The movement of two-wheelers has been banned during this time. However, men above 60 years of age, women and children below 18 years are exempted . Also those moving on National Highways and during emergency situations have been exempted. Liquor shops will be shut till 10 am on December 29.

AGRICULTURE: IT RAINED MISERY ON FARMERS

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA received good rain this year, at least 400 mm more than the normal. There was heavy rain during pre-monsoon, Southwest monsoon and Northeast monsoon seasons, but it did not help end farmers' misery as the copious, but unseasonal, rain heavily saturated the soil. At the same time, shortage in fertilisers and wild fluctuation in prices too hit their dreams hard.

In the last 22 years, Karnataka has had over 15 years of drought, but things started looking up in the last couple of years with good rain. But that led to flooding in some parts of the state. Thanks to good pre-monsoon showers, many farmers went for short-duration crops and even got a good yield. But their happiness was short-lived.

During monsoon, the state received 1,009 mm of rainfall as against the norm of 839 mm. The excess rainfall damaged crops in nearly 10 lakh hectares. To mitigate their problems, the government increased the compensation from Rs 6,800 to Rs 13,600 per hectare, from Rs 13,500 to Rs 25,000 for irrigated crops and from Rs 18,000 to Rs 28,000 for multi-year crops. But that hardly seemed to help.

On one hand, farmers were not able to get the yield expected at many places, on the other, their produce did not get a good price. As the government has not built cold storage units in many places to store crops and allow farmers to wait for better prices, they were forced to sell their produce outside the state, pushing them further into distress.

In North Karnataka, where grape is a major agri-produce, farmers are forced to ferry it to Maharashtra as no freezer facilities are available here. For sugarcane growers, the issue is fair and remunerative price (FRP), over which they have been protesting for weeks. The state government ordered sugar factories to pay Rs 50 extra per tonne from the profit they gain through byproducts, but farmers are not happy.

As a solution to their various problems, the state government has been advising farmers to take up multi crops. Agriculture Minister BC Patil said farmers who are not adopting comprehensive agriculture, but stress on a single or two crops face more disappointment and this is one of the reasons for farmers' suicide. A lot needs to be done to educate farmers and bring in awareness, he said.

The State Agriculture Department, however, is facing over 50 per cent staff shortage and most of the vacancies are in field-level official posts, who are the crucial cog in reaching government schemes to farmers.

While arecanut growers faced the issue of bacterial infection that almost killed their trees in Malnad and surrounding areas, the recent Cyclone Mandous destroyed many horticulture crops, including tomatoes, in Kolar, Tumakuru and other districts.

On a positive note, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai allocated a sizeable amount of Rs 33,700 crore in his budget for agriculture and irrigation sectors. The government also stressed on chemical-free farming by starting pilot studies at four agriculture universities in Bengaluru, Dharwad, Raichur and Shivamogga.

The government is also encouraging farmers to form Farmer Producer Organisations (FPOs), a collective of agriculturists who grow, process, pack, brand and market their crops to increase their profits. This is in line with the central government's aim to double farmers' income. The Directorate of Secondary Agriculture too was constituted.

The state government had launched Vidhyanidhi, a scholarship programme for farmers' children, and it has now been extended to children of agriculture labourers too.

As the sale of substandard seeds and fertilisers has been a big problem for farmers, the government has strengthened the agriculture department by increasing the number of vigilance wing units from two to four. They have been conducting raids and taking action against unscrupulous traders and cracking down on inter-state rackets.

Farmers in some parts of the state also faced a shortage of fertilisers. They were hit the hardest when fertilisers were needed the most during the monsoon. Officials blame vested interests for creating an artificial shortage.

The aggregate revenue during the first 39 days of the Mandala season at the Lord Ayyappa temple in Sabarimala stood at Rs 222.98 crore. Of this, ₹70.1 crore is the total hundi collection, Travancore Devaswom Board president K Ananthagopan said on Monday

BOMMAI: PREVENTIVE MEASURES WILL NOT AFFECT NORMAL LIFE

'Steps will be implemented in phased manner'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday said precautionary measures to prevent the spread of Covid-19 will be implemented in a phased manner without affecting the normal routine of common people and economic activities.

Addressing the media at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi after the Cabinet meeting, Bommai said that the Cabinet discussed the prevailing pandemic situation and measures to be taken to contain its spread.

The meeting also decided to discuss with the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) to create awareness among people, ramp up administration of precautionary dose, and do more tests, especially for people suffering from Severe Acute Respiratory Infection (SARI) and Influenza Like Illness (ILI), the mandatory wearing of masks inside and in public and implement other preventive steps in a phased manner, he said.

On issuing separate guidelines for New Year celebrations, Bommai said it will be like in the previous years, but with some additional measures in the wake of the rise in Covid cases in a few countries.

Bommai said the government wants the ongoing Belagavi session to be fruitful and issues pertaining to North Karnataka must be discussed in detail. The government is ready to discuss any issue taken up by the Opposition, he added.

CRIME PATROL

2 HELD FOR CHEATING CAR OWNERS

BENGALURU: The Cubbon Park police have arrested two persons in separate cases, including a car dealer, for allegedly cheating luxury car owners, and have recovered 12 cars worth Rs 8.92 crore, including an Aston Martin. The accused are Syed Jibran (28) a resident of Vinobanagar in KG Halli, and Parvatham Hemchandra (42) a resident of Hyderabad. A contractor had filed a complaint on October 30 that his Mercedes Benz car which was parked on Lavelle Road was stolen on January 9. The complainant suspected that the finance company had towed the car as he had settled the loan, and filed the complaint nine months later. On November 2, another complainant Raja S, a car dealer and a resident of Chennai, alleged that he had sold a Range Rover car to Jibran, who runs a used car dealership in HBR Layout in April 2021, and Jibran had paid only Rs 18 lakh, who was threatening him for asking to clear the amount. "Based on Raja's complaint, Jibran was arrested, who used to cheat the owners of luxury cars by making partial payment, and promising to sell them for a good price. He then would sell it off to others, and threatened the owners if he was asked to pay up or return the car," the police said. The police also got the lead from Jibran about the Mercedes Benz, and arrested Hemchandra from Hyderbad. The car has been recovered. ENS

Teach our children Hindu culture: MP

"A sanyasi says in this world, which is created by god, end all the oppressors and sinful, if not the true definition of love will not survive. Answer those involved in love jihad the same way. Protect your girls, teach them the right values," BJP MP from Madhya Pradesh Sadhvi Pragya Singh Thakur said. A video of her speech went viral on social media on Monday.

Referring to the killings of Hindu activists, including Bajrang Dal activist Harsha of Shivamogga, she said that everybody has the right to protect themselves. "If somebody barges into our house and attacks us, then it is our duty to retaliate," she said.

"If you send your children to Christian missionary institutions, you will end up in old age homes. Your children will not be yours as they will become selfish. Teach your children culture at home so that they realise that this country is ours, this culture is ours and Hindutva is ours," she said. "Do pujas at your home, read about dharma and shastra, and teach your children about it so that they know about our culture and values," she added.

Stressing on the need for population control, she said that people will be happy if 'Hindu Rashtra' is created.

Later, she visited the house of Harsha and consoled his family members. She told reporters that every Hindu is standing behind Harsha's family. "The families of the martyrs are not alone. I have come here to boost their morale. The government will ensure that terrorists are punished," she said.

Muslim writers ignored? Alternative sammelana on cards

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

VOICES of dissent are growing louder as it is alleged that organisers of the upcoming Kannada Sahitya Sammelana in Haveri are ignoring Muslim writers and poets. In rebellion, some senior Kannada writers are planning to organise an alternative meet, Jana Sahitya Sammelana, in Bengaluru on January 8.

Last week, when the Kannada Sahitya Parishat announced the names of writers and poets who are taking part in the sammelana, a section of Kannada writers objected to the list, saying Muslim writers have been ignored. While the state has hundreds of Muslim Kannada writers, only a few have been considered for the sammelana, they pointed out. Since then, there has been a campaign on social media to organise an alternative event or Paryaya Sammelana, parallel to the Haveri meet. Many writers have agreed to be part of this rebel lit fest.

But organisers alleged that petty politics is being played in the name of sammelana. The Kannada Sahitya Parishat has no intention of avoiding writers based on their religion, they said. "There are six Muslim writers and poets who are part of the Haveri Sammelana. It has become a routine for some people to create a controversy during the mega Kannada event," an organising committee member said.

In 1979, when the sammelana was held in Dharmasthala, a parallel Bandaya Dalit Sammelana was organised, as the interests of Dalit writers were compromised. The then sammelana president, Hampa Nagarajaiah, had turned down a demand to hold a discussion on Dalit issues and the then Chief Minister Devaraj Urs had to intervene for the smooth conduct of the sammelana. That was the trigger and soon, the Bandaya Dalit literature became hugely popular across the state. Later, journalist and writer P Lankesh had called for an alternative Sammelana to the Hubballi meet, but did not meet with much success.

> There are 6 Muslim writers/poets who are part of Haveri Sammelana. It has become a routine for some people to create a controversy during the mega Kannada event — Organising committee member

The upcoming 86th Sahitya Sammelana will be held for three days from January 6 in Haveri and final preparations are on to make it a grand event. It will be inaugurated by Chief minister Basavaraj Bommai, who has taken a special interest as his home constituency of Shiggaon is in Haveri district.

Mixer explodes after courier office owner tests it

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hassan

THE owner of a courier office was seriously injured after a mixer-grinder exploded at Kuvempunagar Extension in Hassan on Monday evening. The incident occurred at the DTDC branch office when Shashi, who owns the unit, opened the parcel and tried to test the mixer. The blast ripped his right hand, and shattered the windowpanes of the office. He also sustained injuries on his stomach and face.

SP Hariram Shankar, who visited the spot, said the incident occurred when the parcel, returned by one of the customers two days ago, was opened. The customer reportedly returned the parcel saying it was delivered to the wrong address. The preliminary investigation did not raise any undue suspicion, but still the case has been referred to the Forensic Science Lab team, which will arrive from Mysuru on Tuesday. The courier boy has all the information about the company, the agency that dispatched the mixer and the address of the customer.

The exact reason for the blast will be known after a thorough investigation, he said. Some suspect a short circuit.

3 quarry workers killed in Ch'nagar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

IN a tragic incident, three labourers were killed when a boulder rolled down on them at a stone quarry at Bisalavadi village in Chamarajanagar district on Monday morning. While two of the victims, Shivaraju (29) and Kumar (40), died on the spot, the third victim, Siddaraju, succumbed to his injuries at a hospital.

All three were from Kagalavadi Mole village in Chamarajanagar. The incident took place at survey number 172 belonging to one Renuka Devi.

It may be recalled that in March, three labourers died in a similar incident at a white stone quarry at Madahalli village in Gundlupet taluk of Chamarajanagar.

Nanjundaswamy, deputy director, department of mining, said, "We have shut the quarry and filed a criminal case against its owner," he said.

PLAYERS STRUGGLING TO DELIVER, BCCI MUST TAKE HARD LOOK AT POLICIES

The limping win in the last Test against Bangladesh on Sunday is symbolic of how Indian men's cricket has been performing for a while now. The year 2022 doesn't paint a beautiful picture either. The most revered sport had endured some torrid times and equally disastrous results. The team crashed out of Asia Cup in the group stage and lost the semifinals at the T20 World Cup in Australia. It had a difficult time even in the longest format—Test matches. Out of the seven played, India lost three. Among the four India won, two were at home and two in Bangladesh. Over the last year, they had four captains too. After Virat Kohli stepped down in January, K L Rahul, Rohit Sharma and Jasprit Bumrah all have led the side at different times. Rohit, 35, has been made the captain across all formats. However, there is no fixed vice-captain. Bumrah was the deputy in Tests, Rahul in ODIs and T20Is.

Though India won the first Test in Bangladesh convincingly after losing the ODI series, the manner of their win in the second raised a few questions, especially on team selection and top players' performances. If not for the heroics of Shreyas Iyer and R Ashwin, the win looked difficult. Rahul needs to perform better, and Kohli, who has had a great T20 World Cup, is struggling in the Tests. Dropping Kuldeep Yadav, who had picked eight wickets, including a five-wicket haul, seemed baffling, especially on a wicket where spinners thrived.

According to Rahul, the team management thought the pitch would help pacers, and Jaydev Unadkat was picked. With the World Test Championships final scheduled next year in July, a big series against Australia in February, and an ODI World Cup at home, India needs to find not just players who would perform but remain injury-free as well. Kuldeep's is not an isolated situation. The roles of some of the players in the team need to be clarified. What happens to non-performing seniors?

The delay in appointing a new selection committee makes things more complex. The BCCI invited applications to replace the committee led by Chetan Sharma but, intriguingly, has asked four selectors who are to be replaced to continue to watch Ranji Trophy games. With a very tight calendar, the emphasis should be on picking format-specific players; it can include the coach too.

US WINTER STORM POINTS TO GRIM CLIMATE FUTURE

A 'once-in-a-generation' snowstorm has brought vast swathes of the US to a halt. Americans have been forced into the confines of their homes during and after Christmas as the extreme weather has left thousands without power for days together. Heart-rending stories of people trapped in their vehicles, stranded on highways, and some even perishing without access to emergency services, have come to the fore while hundreds of rescue and community workers now fan out to provide help and support.

The blizzard surges forward along the Eastern Seaboard with heaping snow drifts across states, making people struggle on their way to warm shelters. Those with critical medical conditions are experiencing the dreadful whiteout that has battered the nation over the last few weeks. The storm spans the Great Lakes of Canada till the borders of Mexico. At least 60% of the US population is under one winter advisory or the other as the mercury continues its plunge.

So far, at least 37 people have been killed by the deep freeze, which deposited over 40 inches of snow at certain places. At one point of time, close to a million people suffered a power outage, leaving utility services critically hit. Thousands of flights were cancelled, while holiday travellers were either stranded or had to reschedule their Christmas-New Year plans, with the winter storm Elliot leaving a trail of snow in its wake.

As the US struggles with the horrifying tales of the 'bomb cyclone', the rest of the world must be shuddering with a foreboding of the grim times we live in and what awaits us. On the science front, too, much has happened, and meteorologists, as well as climate scientists, at some point would sit down to reflect if this is another facet of the Blue Planet coming to terms with climate disaster. If one looks back, one would realise the world has experienced some of the worst weather events. The US, on its part, has seen too much in terms of heat waves, flooding, warming and wildfires—all in just a few years. Far too many nations, with very little resources, also have come to experience the frightening ways of nature, with a recurrence of calamities that threaten to become normal in the days and years to come. Climate change is real. Humankind is in for excruciating times. There is no escape.

QUICK TAKE

WORK FOR ROOFTOP SOLAR BOOM

To promote residential solar energy, the government eases the process of consumers earning subsidies immediately upon applying for installation. That's an incentive but more needs to be done to turn the growing interest in this renewable energy source into a consumer surge. Three areas need government attention. One is poor after-sales service, and a shortage of trained solar technicians, especially in rural areas. Secondly, the supply chain is fragmented as different companies make various parts. Thirdly, the easy availability of finance. Banks are beginning to offer solar loans, but they must be categorised as priority sector lending to increase demand.

2022 upset the applecart of geopolitics and sets course trends that may manifest earlier than one can imagine

TRANSITIONAL UNCERTAINTY, THE HALLMARK OF 2022

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)
Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University

SOURAV ROY

Years that follow periods of geopolitical and geostrategic tumult are usually characterised by challenges of uncertainty. Events that take shape in such years have a lasting effect in the nurturing of the strategic destiny of the regions they occur in. The year after the Great War, 1919, was similarly characterised by a lack of understanding of how to deal with the vanquished Central Powers, an uncertainty that cost the world dearly. 1946, immediately following the Second World War, saw a similar dilemma with the Soviet-US fallout on the management of post-War Europe.

If we accept 1989 as the year which witnessed the end of the Cold War, then 1990–91 saw the flare-up in West Asia in the form of the First Gulf War, which set the course for the confrontation with Political Islam and the search for the elusive new world order. In later years, when looking back at the current period, it will be apparent that its main characteristics were linked to Global Terror, the rise of violent extremist ideologies, attempts to retain unipolarity by the US, the unfriendly rise of China, the great digital revolution, the decline of Europe and the rise of the middle powers. The period ended with the Coronavirus pandemic (2020–21) which shook the entire international order along with the economic ruin of many a nation and the downturn, among many others. 2022 followed the traditional path of uncertainty with the breakout of the Russia-Ukraine war; in reality, a NATO-Russia proxy war which was expected to end in a week to 10 days. It has been raging for 10 months, its outcome obscured by the uncertainty caused by using the most sophisticated information warfare and communication strategy ever employed.

2022 upset the applecart of international geopolitics in more ways than one. It sets course trends that may manifest significantly earlier than one can imagine. While tourism and manufacturing have picked up among the modern-day economic drivers, the international economic order has been massively impacted by the Ukraine war, thus dwarfing any potential large-scale economic recovery. The US also overplayed its cards by considering this a major opportunity to push back Russia from the burnishing strategic confidence it was tending to acquire following the successful hybrid war it pursued in Crimea and the Donbas region from 2014 onwards.

The Ukraine war has impacted the international strategic environment by pulling attention and resources to the East European theatre and thus preventing the US focus on the Indo-Pacific. Its second-order impact has been cementing the Russia-China equation; NATO's actions have created an additional commonality of interests, although China, too, endorses an early end to hostilities.

The trend of geopolitical events in 2023 and beyond will depend upon the outcome of the Ukraine War, but a clear victory or defeat should not be expected in this war. This resultant uncertainty will expand the chances of a resurgence of hostilities, especially if NATO persists with its eastward push. If the war ends by Feb-March 2023 due to the resource crunch, sheer lack of stamina and some compromise on energy supply and sales to Europe, it would be good for the rest of the world in terms of resumption of the food and supply chain. A failure to achieve that could witness a long war with the squeezing of resources and the resultant effect on the international economy.

What 2022 seemed to present was a reticent China, hesitant in the year of its five-yearly flagship internal event, the Congress of the CCP (20th this time) and Xi Jinping's expected virtual anointment as president for life. A series of events seem to have upset China's self-image and what it wishes to project to the world. A downturn in the economy, failure to cope with the pandemic and evolve a strategy to counter it, and the Taiwan showdown during the visit of US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi to the island, all reflected the inability of China to stand up to challenging situations and respond with rationale and balance. India's conduct of Exercise Yudh Abhyas with the US Army in Uttarakhand, where again a contentious border exists, irked China's leadership. December 2022 has seen border incidents and border talks close to each other. There is very little likelihood of more clarity emerging in this contentious relationship. In all probability, its grey zone nature, with inherent uncertainty, will see more near-war-like situations and tension at the borders, without the potential of an all-out war anytime in the near future.

The Pakistan front has seen a quiet Indo-Pak border, and Pakistan's capability towards pursuing the proxy war in J&K has been less robust. The resultant effective control by the Indian security forces has reduced Pakistan's options, although space for return and rekindling turbulence remains live even now. 2023 is likely to see elections in Pakistan, and in that context, India-baiting remains a favourite pastime. Pakistan Foreign Minister Bilawal Bhutto of the PPP has already set the ball rolling by attempting to score brownie points by making unsalutary remarks against India's prime minister. India-bashing will continue, although the feasibility of conflict remains low.

For Pakistan, the real fight is in the fields of ideology, local terror, economic development and, currently, the biggest threat—climate change. Having one of the world's most vulnerable populations, 2022 for Pakistan set the stage for considerable negatives to follow. The one positive which emerged from amidst all this was its return to favour in the eyes of the US. For the umpteenth time, the US has welcomed Pakistan back into its fold, this time for two prime reasons, which emerged in 2022.

First, the US' inability to manage Afghanistan and the realisation that the Afghanistan theatre needed focused handling with the Ukraine war and a none-too-stable Middle East. Second, the US also realised that given Pakistan's geostrategic location and economic vulnerability, it was important to keep it within its fold. Pakistan's ability to convert this to any advantage will depend on how it charts its internal politics.

However, the feasibility of the return of global terror is also contingent upon how the financial crisis and social turbulence in Pakistan and Afghanistan finally play out. The world must not ignore it because of prevalent uncertainty. The real manifestation will emerge sometime later, but before that, a lot can be done to prevent that.

CENTRAL BANK DIGITAL CURRENCY AND MACROECONOMIC IMPLICATIONS

TULSI JAYAKUMAR
Professor, Economics and Executive Director, Centre for Family Business & Entrepreneurship at Bhavan's SPJIMR

The Reserve Bank of India has recently launched two pilot versions of Central Bank Digital Currencies (CBDCs)—the Digital Rupee-Wholesale (e₹-W) and the Digital Rupee-Retail (e₹-R). These digital currencies are virtual money backed and issued by the central bank. In this sense, wholesale and retail digital currencies represent sovereign currency—the central bank's liabilities.

The idea of a digital currency issued by a central bank for the public is not new. In 1987, James Tobin mooted the concept of a "deposited currency", or "a medium with the convenience of deposits and the safety of currency". As per Tobin's idea, not just banks but individuals would hold deposits with the central bank. The underlying logic of this idea was safety since bank deposits, although convenient, were susceptible to bank runs.

India is not the only (or even the first) country to explore digital currencies. The CBDC global tracker reveals that 11 countries have fully launched a digital currency as of date. The first live retail CBDC was the Sand Dollar, issued by the Central Bank of Bahamas in October 2020, with Jamaica's JAM-DEX being the latest one. China, which launched its pilot to cover 260 million people, will expand it to the rest of the country in 2023. In 2023, 20 countries will either undertake or extend their pilot testing of digital currencies, while 114 (of the 119 countries tracked), representing over 95% of global GDP, were exploring the launch of a digital currency.

Central banks have been motivated to issue CBDCs due to the rising public interest in Bitcoins and other cryptocurrencies, which pose challenges to traditional forms of money and the central bank-led monetary system. Such cryptocurrencies, however, are mere speculative assets prone to extreme volatility and cannot be used meaningfully as a means of payment. They have also been found to be used to undertake money laundering, ransomware attacks and other financial crimes. Some cryptocurrencies, like Bitcoins, have other negative attributes, such as wasteful energy consumption. For instance, the Bitcoin network currently uses as much electricity as the Netherlands.

However, the competition posed by cryptocurrencies is only one of the reasons for the introduction of CBDCs.

Various countries have justified the adoption of CBDCs for diverse reasons. Sweden, for instance, has sought to popularise a more acceptable electronic form of currency, even as it faces a declining usage of paper currency. Countries like Denmark, Germany, Japan and the United States with significant physical cash usage use CBDCs to make issuance more efficient. Where the geographical spread of the country poses constraints, such as in the Bahamas and the Caribbean islands, CBDCs obviate the need for the physical movement of cash.

In India, the RBI has sought to introduce CBDCs to reduce the operational costs associated with the issuance of money, transactions and management of physical cash. Since CBDCs do not require holders to possess a bank account, they also carry the potential to foster financial inclusion among the unbanked segments of the population. Other reasons provided by the RBI include "bringing resilience, efficiency, and innovation in the payments system, adding efficiency to the settlement system, boosting innovation in cross-border payments space, and providing the public with uses that any private virtual currencies can provide, without the associated risks".

> Central banks have been motivated to issue CBDCs due to rising public interest in Bitcoins and other cryptos, which pose challenges to the monetary system

Can the RBI expect digital currencies to assist in its monetary policy goals? The answer may not be a clear yes or no.

On the one hand, CBDCs can expand the central bank's toolkit available for achieving various goals, since they can supply information to the RBI regarding the economy on a real-time basis and are also programmable due to their being digital. When CBDCs are available to all (as retail currencies), the RBI would better understand when households are using the CBDC. It can then act on such information in a targeted manner to improve monetary policy effectiveness. It has been estimated that the US could experience as much as a 3% permanent increase in GDP through such increased effectiveness. During times like the pandemic, such information can also be used by central banks to transfer money to those who need it the most, rather than the 'helicopter drops' followed by most major central banks.

On the other hand, during economic instability or a system-wide bank run, CBDCs can induce people to switch from relatively riskier bank deposits to risk-free central bank-guaranteed sovereign currency—CBDCs. Such a switch could paradoxically accelerate the bank run.

In India, a key challenge with the monetary policy mechanism has been the considerable lag in the monetary policy transmission mechanism. The solution to such lags could be interest-bearing CBDCs called remunerated CBDCs. These could shift the onus of the transmission from the overnight call money market to the deposit rate directly, thereby ensuring a stronger pass-through of the central bank's policy rate to the broader structure of interest rates in the financial system. However, the downside of such deposit-like CBDCs could be to encourage people to move away from deposits towards CBDCs, posing a threat to the entire financial system. This is because a loss of deposits to the banks reduces their capacity to create credit through providing loans to firms. On the other hand, unremunerated CBDCs which do not carry an interest rate, like the Indian e₹-R, pose little threat to the financial system through banking disintermediation. However, the trade-off is that such non-interest-bearing CBDCs may not improve monetary transmission.

Thus, while digital currencies have emerged as the sine qua non of a modern monetary system, the issues around the adoption and the efficacy of this new instrument, especially in a country like India, will need to be assessed and monitored in the next few years.

Impressions on judiciary

Apropos of Sovereignty of Parliament a myth, rule of law reality (Dec 26). The columnist, an experienced Parliamentarian and a reputed SC lawyer, has pointed out that a democracy has checks and balances maintained by the legislature, executive and judiciary, and one cannot interfere with the workings of another. He has erased public misconceptions on the judiciary by stating how judges toil beyond court hours. It is true that in a democracy, there is no absolute freedom for anyone and that accountability is everyone's duty.

Vanquishing BF.7

Apropos of Clarity please on anti-Covid overdrive (Dec 26). In view of rising Covid cases in China and other countries, the government's steps to tackle the BF.7 virus is praiseworthy. We have seen how much people suffered during the third wave. To contain the spread, cooperation among political parties and the public is a must.

RaGa's way with words

Rahul Gandhi's observation that India is extremely vulnerable in the event of a war is unfortunate and will boost the morale of the Chinese. If he has worthwhile ideas, he should discuss them with the government and not politicise such issues. He needs to be reminded how his great-grandfather mishandled the situation in 1962, from which the nation is still not able to recover.

Shah on education

Apropos of 'Mother tongue will help raise students' abilities' (Dec 25). Our home minister never tires of saying that education must be imparted in one's mother tongue. If some students are not able to follow English, is it not better to provide English classes rather than change the medium?

Indian players must buck up

India won the 2nd test against Bangladesh by 2–0, but questions remain unanswered about the form of Rahul and Kohli. The team needs to sort these issues out before the Australia series in February.

A terrible, terrible war

The picture that is a part of the news No let up in Russia attack, Kherson shelled (Dec 25) makes me very emotional. The unsettled war will plague both countries with multidimensional catastrophes. Recession and the new Covid variant pose trouble. It is better to end the Russia-Ukraine war and prepare for the other foreseeable calamities.

'India set to become foodgrain bowl'

Repealed farm laws were 100% in interest of farmers, says Union minister Parshottam Rupala

UNION Minister of Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying Parshottam Rupala says India is all set to become the world's 'foodgrain bowl' as the country quickly moves towards organic and climate-friendly farming. In an interview with Rajesh Kumar Thakur, he said the repealed farm laws were in the larger interests of the country's farmers and that the demand for such laws has started coming in from farmers.Excerpts:

How is the government working for the development of agriculture and the allied fields?

Ours is a dedicated government that works for the farmers under the leadership of PM Narendra Modi. India has taken a series of initiatives to explore agriculture and promote farmers' welfare ever since Modiji took over as 'Pradhan Sevak'. The government has linked agricultural production with the income of farmers. The agriculture department is working towards increasing the farmers' income along with the agriculture production by strengthening the risk-reducing management. The farmers are now getting the maximum price of their produce. For the first time, soil health cards have been issued. The 'Krishi Mahotsava' has become a platform to promote agriculture by introducing new technologies. Over 10.5 crore farmers directly get over ₹2.16 lakh crore as part of the initiative to facilitate direct benefits to them.

Why were the new farm laws repealed? Were those laws not in the interest of farmers?

The farm laws were 100% in the interests of the country's farmers. I can discuss this in detail. I will give you examples of benefits of the laws too. We can debate over it as a special subject.

Does India still need such farm laws?

The country needs such laws. Farmers have now started demanding such measures.

Has the soil card scheme been implemented across the country?

Yes, in more than four rounds, on a priority. At present, the country's 22 crore farmers have been given soil health cards. Around 10,000 soil-testing units are functional where farmers get the soil of their fields tested and are informed which fertilisers should be used for high-yield crops. Farmers now carry bottles of Nano urea to their fields in place of urea sacks. The government is working to reduce the cost agricultural cost through a slew of facilities. The government is also determined to increase the coverage of irrigated farming.

How has India's dairy sector performed?

India is the largest milk-producing country contributing 23% of the global milk production. One of the ways we have improved the dairy sector is by encouraging the indigenous cow conservation and protection through the Rashtriya Gokul Mission. The breeding capacity of the bovine cattle, including cows, is being increased and we are working to increase milking capacity of the cow on the individual level. The country's livestock is being vaccinated against diseases. To date, a fund of Rs 13,000 crore has been allotted and with the help of state governments, a drive is being conducted to vaccinate the livestock.

Is India becoming 'aatmanirbhar' in agriculture and allied sectors?

India is becoming the foodgrain bowl, besides being self-reliant in allied sectors such as dairying and fisheries. This is happening especially in the organic food production because India has vast natural resources. We have indigenous cows.

Concocted narratives were taught in history to inculcate inferiority: Modi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said that concocted narratives were taught in the name of history in the country to create a sense of inferiority among people however local traditions and society kept the tales of 'glory' alive. Modi was referring to the martyrdom of sons of 10th Sikh Guru Gobind Singh --Sahibzadas Baba Zorawar Singh and Baba Fateh Singh.

"On one hand there was the mighty Mughal Sultanate blinded by religious fanaticism, while on the other hand there were our Gurus gleaming in the knowledge and living by the ancient principles of India. On one hand there were heights of terror and religious fanaticism, while on the other hand, there was the pinnacle of spirituality and kindness to see God in every human being... Mughals possessed an army of millions, while the Veer Sahebzades of Guru had their courage. They did not bow down to the Mughals even though they were alone. This is when the Mughals walled them in alive. It is their bravery that has been a source of inspiration for centuries," said Modi.

He was speaking at a programme — 'Veer Bal Diwas'— organised by the ministry of culture at Major Dhyan Chand National Stadium in the national capital. On the occasion, the PM also flagged off a march-past by about 3,000 children.

On the occasion of Prakash Purab of Guru Gobind Singh in January, Modi had announced that December 26 would be observed as 'Veer Bal Diwas', to mark the martyrdom of Sahibzadas Baba Zorawar Singh and Baba Fateh Singh.

Addressing the gathering, Modi remarked that India is celebrating the first Veer Bal Diwas, today and it is a day of a new beginning for the nation when we all come together to bow our heads for the sacrifices laid down in the past. "Shaheedi Saptah and Veer Bal Diwas is not just a cauldron of emotions but a source of infinite inspiration," he said.

Chief Ministers of Punjab and Maharashtra Bhagwant Mann and Eknath Shinde including union ministers Hardeep Singh Puri, Arjun Ram Meghwal, and Meenakshi Lekhi were also present on the occasion.

Constitution sole guide of govt, PM made it clear from beginning: Rijiju

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

SLAMMING opposition members for accusing PM Narendra Modi-led government for attempting to delegitimise and undermine the authority of the judiciary, Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju on Monday said that ever since PM Modi has become the Prime Minister he has maintained that our Constitution is our sacred book and our country will only be governed by the Constitution.

"There are times when you get to hear that there is tension or conflict between the judiciary. There are times when we also get to hear that the Centre is trying to delegitimise the authority of the judiciary. Political statements are made. Three days ago, chief of a political party questioned us and even media tries to create a rift by adding masala so that their news is successful. Although they (news channels) do not intend to cause any harm to us but to make their show successful. Ever since PM Modi has become the Prime Minister, he said that our Constitution is our sacred book and our country will only be governed by the Constitution. If someone is trying to hamper the procedure then the common man will have to think as to who is trying to do this," Rijiju said.

Speaking at the 16th National Conference organised by Akhil Bhartiya Adhivakta Parishad on the topic "New challenges and opportunities in front of Indian judicial system," the Law Minister said, "Some years ago some steps were taken by the people who were incharge of the government, there were detailed discussions that there should be "committed judiciary" for the government. Whoever becomes judge should only work for the Govt but we think that judge should be not be committed towards the government but towards the country. For us committed judiciary means committed judiciary for the country but for some people committed judiciary means committed for their party. There is a difference and then they accuse us of delegitimising the judiciary.

Cong busts BJP's '9 Yatra lies', demands apology

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AS the 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' enters into an eight day break after its Delhi leg, the Congress demanded an apology from the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) for spreading lies and misinformation about Rahul Gandhi's foreign trip.

On Monday, Congress media cell posted pictures of Rahul Gandhi paying tributes at the memorials of former Prime Ministers including his father Rajeev Gandhi. Taking a jibe at the BJP, Congress spokesperson Supriya Shrinate said that a BJP leader had said Rahul Gandhi would travel abroad for a Christmas break. "But when the minister and BJP leader, wrapped up in a blanket in the severe cold, was busy breaking the country, Mr Gandhi was paying tributes at the memorials of Mahatma Gandhi, Jawaharlal Nehru, and all the former PMs.

She was referring to the tweet of Union Minister Pralhad Joshi which said, "It is strange to hear those people talk about Parliament's functioning who pause their Yatra to leave for vacation and those who did not attend even a single day of session".

During the winter session of the Parliament last week, Union Health Minister wrote to Rahul Gandhi urging him to suspend the yatra, if the Covid-19 protocols cannot be followed.

Demanding an apology on the 'lies', Shrinate said that AICC general secretary has already asked the minister to apologise if his claims prove to be wrong. "Today, yet again, they were caught lying. Will the army of mafiveers apologise? Apologising is their old habit so it shouldn't be a problem," she said.

The Yatra entered Delhi on Saturday and it was joined by hundreds of supporters.

Debunking 'nine lies' spread by the BJP on the yatra, the spokesperson said that the IT cell and the BJP ministers have taken up the job of spreading misinformation about Gandhi.

"The first lie was that the container is like a 5-star hotel. These containers built on top of trucks are not equipped with any such facility and BJP people should come and stay in those containers for 4 months," she said. .

Earlier, Union minister Smriti Irani had alleged that Rahul Gandhi didn't pay tribute to Swami Vivekananda in Kanyakumari during the yatra. However, Congress had shared videos of Rahul bowing to the statue of Vivekananda. "Another big lie was told that Rahul only went to church in the South. And then there was a lie about slogans of Pakistan Zindabad being raised in Bharat Jodo. That lie was also exposed," she said.

BJP leaders used to say that Rahul Gandhi will go abroad for the Christmas holidays. But today in the bitter cold, when the BJP leaders were engaged in breaking India wearing blankets, Rahul ji was paying homage at the mausoleums of great men. Will the army of 'mafiveers' apologise?

Cong invites Akhilesh, Maya, Jayant to join Bharat Jodo in UP leg

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

IN a big political move, the Congress party has extended invitation to several leaders, including Samajwadi Party president Akhilesh Yadav, BSP supremo Mayawati and RLD chief Jayant Chaudhary and also former deputy CM of Uttar Pradesh, Dinesh Sharma to join the Uttar Pradesh leg of its ongoing Bharat Jodo Yatra.

While all non-BJP opposition leaders have been invited to join the yatra, Dinesh Sharma has been invited as an educationist and former professor of Lucknow University.

However, the political experts witness the Congress move as an attempt to unify the non-BJP parties through the Yatra ahead of the big battle of ballots due in 2024. Currently, Congress, which has reduced nearly to a non-entity in country's politically most crucial state with just one MP — from Congress chief Sonia Gandhi representing Rae Bareli in Lok Sabha — and two MLAs in state assembly, is struggling hard for its revival in UP.

Besides Sharma, Professor Ravikant, teaching Hindi in LU, has also been invited by the Congress party to join the yatra which is likely to enter UP from Loni border of Ghaziabad on January 3. The Yatra, led by former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi, will cover three districts — Ghaziabad, Baghpat and Shamli — before entering Haryana.

Besides Ghaziabad, Rahul Gandhi would lead the yatra in Baghpat on January 4 and Shamli on January 5 when, in the evening, he would leave UP through Kairana in Shamli district to enter Sonipat in Haryana. Rahul Gandhi would cover total 100 km in UP during the yatra.

According to UP Congress spokesperson Ashok Singh, as the people are not allowed to raise their views in the present dispensation, Bharat Jodo Yatra is the only option to decipher people's minds.

Ukraine war redefined geopolitics in '22, new yr to see India at G20 helm

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

THE Year 2022 will be remembered most for the outbreak of conflict between Russia and Ukraine, that started on February 24 and continues unabated.

The conflict changed the entire narrative of geo-politics in the world, where the America and Europe were on the side of Ukraine and countries like India not have only chosen to abstain speaking against Russia, but also have benefitted by increasing its import of oil from Russia.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been reiterating that this is "no era for war' and has supported measures to end the conflict through dialogue and discussion. He has urged both Russian President Vladimir Putin, and Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy to resolve the conflict at repeated intervals, which includes making directr phone calls to them.

The war had led to sanctions being imposed on Russia, however, India continued its bilateral trade with them and infact increased their oil imports from the earlier 2 per cent to nearly 30 per cent now.

"Fossil fuels are a finite market and we will buy oil from wherever it is available. With the sanctions imposed on Russia, the oil prices in the Middle East (from where we earlier imported) have shot up. Russia's pricing is viable for us,'' External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar has said many times over and the world seems to have accepted that stand.

Meanwhile, President Putin has been talking about bringing the conflict in Ukraine to an end by offering "negotiations". Now, it is to be seen that Zelenskky is willing to walk the extra mile. His return from the US and additional arms and ammunition that he has got along may delay the possibility of a ceasefire.

Meanwhile, 2023 will be marked significantly by India's G20 Presidency and participation of members from across the world. India is also handling the Presidency of Shanghai Corporation Organisation (SCO) and Summits for both will be held in 2023 which is expected to see participation of many heads of state.

There has been an upswing in the interest the Western world has been showing in the Indo-Pacific. America's altering equation with China has encouraged many developed nations to focus on this region specially after the Taiwan Straits episode.

Amidst all this, there is the threat of Covid resurgence and its impact on lives again as there is an upswing in cases across China and some other parts of South East Asia. India is naturally most concerned about whether this will impact their over 200 physical meetings that have been scheduled under the G20 Presidency as all arrangements have been made.

Defence services saw indigenous push in 2022

YearEnder 2022

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE armed forces in the year 2022 witnessed commissioning and inductions of warships, aircraft and submarines with a conspicuous stamp of indigenous content.

The commissioning of India's first indigenous aircraft carrier INS Vikrant by Prime Minister Narendra Modi at Cochin Shipyard Limited in September showcased the country's growing prowess of indigenous manufacturing. With 76% indigenous content, the 262.5 m long and 61.6 m wide ship is equipped with state-of-the-art equipment/systems, designed for a crew of around 1,600 officers and sailors.

The carrier is capable of operating an air wing consisting of 30 aircraft comprising MiG-29K fighter jets, Kamov-31, MH-60R multi-role helicopters, in addition to indigenously manufactured Advanced Light Helicopters and Light Combat Aircraft Navy.

Another indigenous combat platform Light Combat Helicopter (LCH) 'Prachand', designed and developed by Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL), was inducted into the Indian Air Force in Jodhpur in October 2022. The LCH is the first indigenous Multi-Role Combat Helicopter which has potent ground attack and aerial combat capability. It possesses modern stealth characteristics, robust armour protection and formidable night attack capability. Onboard advanced navigation system, guns tailored for close combat and potent air to air missiles make the LCH especially suited for the modern battlefield. It is capable of operating from high altitude terrain and carrying out precision strikes at high altitude targets.

Army, Navy, Air Force and even the Indian Coast Guard inducted major aerial platforms designed and built in India. Indian Naval Air Squadron (INAS) 325, operating the indigenously built Advanced Light Helicopter (ALH) Mk-III, was commissioned into the Indian Navy at INS Utkrosh, Port Blair, Andaman & Nicobar Command in May 2022. The unit was the second ALH MK III Squadron commissioned into the Indian Navy. The state-of-the-art multi role helicopter has been developed and manufactured by HAL. The ALH Mk-III helicopters feature state-of-the-art equipment including advanced RADAR as well as Electro optical sensors, Shakti engines, full glass cockpit, high-intensity search light, advanced communication systems, automatic identification system as well as search-and-rescue homer. This feature enables the helicopter to undertake maritime reconnaissance as well as carry out search and rescue at extended ranges while operating from ships, both by day and night.

76% indigenous content in INS Vikrant

The commissioning of India's first indigenous aircraft carrier INS Vikrant by the PM Narendra Modi at Cochin Shipyard Limited in September showcased the country's growing prowess of indigenous manufacturing. The ship has 76% indigenous content

The Indian Navy saw inductions of the Missile Destroyers and Frigates having been designed and developed by the Indian Navy's inhouse Department of Naval Design and manufactured in Indian shipyards. Two frontline warships of the Indian Navy — 'Surat' and 'Udaygiri' — at Mazagon Docks Limited, Mumbai were commissioned in May. 'Surat' is the fourth Stealth-Guided Missile Destroyer of P15B class, while 'Udaygiri' is the second Stealth Frigate of P17A class. Project 15B class of ships are the next-generation stealth guided-missile destroyers of the Indian Navy which are follow-on class of the weapon intensive P15A (Kolkata Class) Destroyers. P17A Frigates are warships that are follow-on class of the P17 (Shivalik Class) Frigates with improved stealth features, advanced weapons & sensors and platform management systems. Y-12705 (Mormugao), the second ship of Project 15B, was delivered to the Indian Navy in November, while fifth Stealth Frigate 'Taragiri' of P17A was launched in September.

Call for re-verification of NRC list grows in Assam

Punishment to those who created mess in the exercise also sought

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

AFTER the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG) detected large scale anomalies in the updation of the National Register of Citizens (NRC) in Assam, the demand for re-verification of the citizens' list and stringent punishment to those responsible for the mess was renewed.

The Assam Public Works (APW), an NGO which had first moved the Apex Court seeking the updation of the NRC of 1951, alleged the then NRC coordinator Prateek Hajela was solely responsible for the mess. "Prateek Hajela had told people in Assam that everything is being monitored by the Supreme Court. He misled the court," APW president Abhijeet Sharma said.

Hitesh Dev Sarma, who succeeded Hajela, had filed two FIRs with the CID of police and the Vigilance and Anti-corruption Wing earlier, alleging corruption and money laundering by his predecessor.

The All Assam Students' Union (AASU) described them as enemies of the state and said the people would never forgive them. "The demand for the updation of the NRC was raised to safeguard the state's indigenous population. The government should give exemplary punishment to those who indulged in corruption and committed anomalies in the NRC process," the AASU said in a statement.

The students' organisation said it had earlier moved the Supreme Court seeking a Bangladeshi immigrants-free NRC. It said the decision to update the NRC was taken after a movement by the people of Assam. "The AASU is not happy over the manner in which the NRC was updated. A minute examination of the list is imperative for an error-free NRC. The Centre and the Assam government can approach the Supreme Court seeking re-verification of the list. Only this can ensure a correct NRC," the statement further said. "We will not rest till we get a correct NRC," Samujjal Bhattacharya, chief advisor to the AASU said. In its report of 2020 submitted to the state Assembly on Saturday, the CAG said it was due to lack of proper planning that 215 software utilities were added in a haphazard manner to the core software used for updating the document.

The report said highly secure software was needed for the updation exercise but due process was not followed either for the development of software or the selection of vendors. The "improper" software development, related to data capture and correction, had left room for data tampering, the report said, adding the project cost of ₹288.18 crore escalated to ₹1,602.66 crore due to time overrun.

TECH UPGRADE

Newbies in Hry House as winter session begins

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Haryana Assembly winter session began with several new introductions. Even as five bills were passed on the first day of the session, members experienced some newbies that included tablets fixed on their seats and a live telecast of the proceedings shown with their name while they spoke.

The dress code for the officers and employees of the Vidhan Sabha has also been introduced.

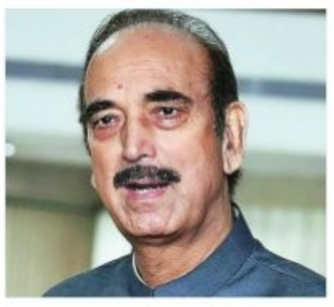
On the initiative of the Leader of the House and CM, Manohar Lal Khattar, Assembly Speaker Gian Chand Gupta started the proceedings. Last year, during the budget session, a new initiative was taken by getting the budget passed through the ad hoc committees of the house which was appreciated by all the members.

A total of five bills were passed on the first day of the session.

These include The Haryana Urban Immovable Property Tax (Validation of Lists) Repeal Bill, 2022, The Haryana Small Towns (Tax - Validating) Repeal Bill, 2022, The Haryana Municipal (Tax - Validating) Repeal Bill, 2022, The Haryana Minor Canals (Repeal) Bill, 2022 and The Haryana State Tube-Well (Repeal) Bill, 2022.

Azad backs Pandit staff, says life more important than job

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar



AFTER senior J&K BJP leader and Union MoS Dr Jitendra Singh backed striking PM package Pandit employees saying it is better to save a life even if it means closing down a dozen offices, former J&K Chief Minister and Democratic Azad Party (DAP) Ghulam Nabi Azad has also come in support of the striking employees saying "life is more important than job".

"Life is more important. I believe that Kashmiri Pandit employees should be transferred to safe places in Jammu in view of their security concerns. And when the situation improves, they can be brought back to the Valley," Azad told reporters on the sidelines of a function in south Kashmir.

About 5,500 PM package Pandit employees, who are on strike and have not resumed their duties in Valley since May 12 when a Pandit employee was shot dead by militants inside his office, have been anguished by the recent statement of Lt Governor Manoj Sinha that those sitting at homes won't be given government salaries.

After LG Sinha's statement, Pandit employees have asserted that they won't join their duties in the Valley and demanded temporary relocation to Jammu. "Is job more important than life? Definitely, life is more important," Azad said, adding, "If our government comes to power, we will allow their transfer to Jammu."

The DAP president said that in the wake of targeted killings by militants in the Valley, there is fear among the Pandit community and they don't want to stay in the Valley.

"In such a scenario, they should be shifted to Jammu till the situation improves here," he said. Azad said it was during his tenure as CM that he had given a proposal to then PM Manmohan Singh for giving 6,000 jobs to Pandits. "The proposal was approved and 3,000 jobs were provided during my tenure," he added.

Union Minister Jitendra Singh and top J&K BJP leaders have also strongly come out in support of Pandits and urge the government to transfer them to Jammu.

Traders seek no curbs imposed on New Year

The tourism season in Rajasthan is at its peak now with top destinations like Jaipur, Jaisalmer, Bikaner, and Udaipur packed with travellers, despite Covid fears. Even as the health administration is yet to issue Covid related advisory, tourist influx is rapidly growing as 2022 draws to a close. Most tourists and traders say they that ordinary people and businessmen want to make up for the lost time in the past two years due to Covid lockdowns. Traders are especially keen that there should be no lockdown or restrictions as wearing masks and social distancing should be enough. People and businesses have suffered a lot during the pandemic.

Gehlot's son chosen RCA prez yet again

Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra has brought double happiness for CM Ashok Gehlot. On one hand, before Rahul left the state from Alwar, Gehlot announced that he would soon present the next budget, a clear message to the bureaucracy and his opponents that he is not going anywhere. Also, his son Vaibhav Gehlot has been chosen as the RCA president unopposed for the second time in a row. Earlier there was a protest regarding his name but Vidhan Sabha Speaker Dr CP Joshi pacified the rebellion and convinced all the rebels to accept Vaibhav as their leader. Now the key question is whether Vaibhav will be able to enjoy better days in politics.

Theatre fest in Jaipur, 500 artistes take part

Theatre lovers in Jaipur had a special treat last week with the Jairangam Jaipur Theatre Festival. Organized jointly by the Department of Art and Culture and the Jawahar Kala Kendra, the festival's many plays made the audience laugh and cry by turns as they were thoroughly entertained. The seven-day long festival enthralled Jaipur's theatre lovers by staging 21 plays in three shifts. While 7 plays were from different parts of Rajasthan, over 500 artistes from Delhi, Mumbai, Bhopal and Assam came in to entertain the residents of Jaipur. The play 'Kino Kao' had only dwarf actors performing and 'End Game', a play written by famous French writer Samuel Beckett, looked like a scene from Hollywood movies.

CBI court sentences 4 in Vyapam cases

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

THE Central Bureau of Investigation Special Judge, Gwalior on Monday has convicted four persons in two separate cases related to Madhya Pradesh Vyavsayik Pariksha Mandal (Vyapam). The Special Judge found two guilty in a Vyapam scam related case of pre-medical test 2010 and awarded four years rigorous imprisonment along with a fine of ₹13,100 each.

Dushyant Singh Bhadoria was accused of seeking admission in a medical college by arranging an impersonator Jagpal Singh, who took the test in his place. In the second case of Police Constable Recruitment Test-2013, the court convicted two accused, Laxman Singh (candidate) and Dharmendra Kumar (impersonator). Both were awarded four years rigorous imprisonment along with fine of ₹14,100 each. After taking over the case, on Supreme Court's order, the CBI had conducted a thorough investigation and had filed a chargsheet against the accused.

Cong plans protest rally as tug-of-war with Guv on quota bill continues

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE ongoing face-off between the Chhattisgarh governor and the state government over the recent amendment bill that raises the total reservation to 76% got intensified on Monday. CM Bhupesh Baghel expressed his displeasure over Governor Anusuiya Uikey's decision to withhold her assent and seek a legal advisor's opinion after the Baghel submitted responses to the 10 queries raised by her over the amendment bill.

Baghel said the Congress will organise a rally to Raj Bhawan in support of the bill on January 3. "We satisfied the ego of the governor keeping in mind the concern of 2.75 crore people of the state, even though all the officials were against sending the responses to her questions since there is no provision in the Constitution to follow such a practice. But now she is consistently looking for some excuses to not give an assent to the bill by saying that the replies are to be examined by legal experts," Baghel said.

According to sources, a preliminary examination showed that the responses submitted by the government lacked satisfactory explanation, had no supportive data and contained inadequate details to substantiate the justifications for passing the bill and the preparedness of the state government.

"No report was submitted to cite if any committee was constituted to assess that SCs/STs are lagging behind socially, economically and educationally. Raj Bhawan was not given any record of the Quantifiable Data Commission, or a survey report on how the efficiency of the state administration would be maintained." sources said.

Didi on backfoot as TMC netas, kin figure in Bengal PMAY list

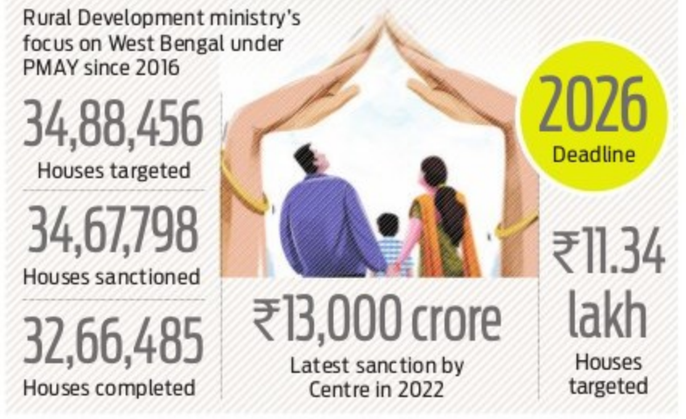
PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

WITH over 5.5 lakh applicants being rejected under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY), the majority belongs to the Trinamool Congress's panchayat functionaries, satraps of the ruling party and their relatives.

The names were removed from the list of eligible beneficiaries of the Central scheme after they failed to meet the eligibility criteria during verification checks. In the list prepared on December 10, names of 45.72 lakh people were mentioned and after the verification process, 40.27 lakh people were found to be eligible. The Centre had stopped the funding under the scheme since December 2021 citing irregularities, and has recently approved a fund of ₹13,000 crore for building 11.34 lakh homes for the poor by 2026.

This time, the Centre is keeping a close watch on the disbursal of funds under PMAY. "The Centre has laid down 14 conditions to identify an applicant as an eligible beneficiary. We have set up teams for spot verification to find out eligibility of the applicants. At many places, ineligible panchayat functionaries and local political leaders tried to build up pressure on the team keeping their names in the list of applicants. Thousands of applicants were found ineligible despite living in concrete and palatial houses," said an official of the state government.

Several demonstrations are being staged in different parts of the states by deprived people alleging that many already living in pucca houses were declared eligible depriving the genuine people of the benefits. In Murshidabad, 17 members of a TMC-dominated gram panchayat, including the chief and the deputy chief, tendered resignation fearing people's ire as many poor living in dilapidated mud-huts did not find a place in the list of beneficiaries.



Maha Oppn asks Shinde minister to quit over regularisation of land

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

BOTH the Houses of Maharashtra legislature were adjourned for the day on Monday after the Opposition stalled the proceedings demanding Agriculture Minister Abdul Sattar's resignation over a land 'regularisation' order passed by him when he was a minister in the previous MVA government. Sattar allegedly allocated 37 acres of gairan, common grazing land, to a private individual Yogesh Khandare in Washim district.

The Nagpur bench of the Bombay HC had issued a notice to Sattar who had ordered 'regularisation' of the possession of land reserved for public gairan in favour of a private person in the face of a civil court order. Ajit Pawar said this is a scam worth ₹150 crore so Sattar must resign first and later face the inquiry. "Prima facie there is strong evidence of corruption against Abdul Sattar. He has no right to remain as a minister. Sattar blatantly violated the Supreme Court and high court order to benefit some individuals," he added.

Former CM Prithviraj Chavan said, "The Washim district collector said that the 37 acres of gairan land cannot be allocated to a private individual. The minister must resign."

Meanwhile, Sattar refused to comment on the allegations. He said he will reply in the Maharashtra state Assembly where the allegations were made.

Our govt is safe, will complete full term: Shinde

IN the backdrop of NIT land scam, after Maharashtra Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis' Delhi visit, CM Eknath Shinde also rushed to Delhi on Monday.Shinde said that he went to Delhi to attend the Veer Bal Diwas and denied the speculations that his government is in trouble.

Shinde wanted to meet either Amit Shah or PM Narendra Modi to explain his side of the story on the land scam, but he could not meet either of them. Shinde said that since the day he formed the government with the BJP, the opposition has been targeting him. "Our government is safe and will complete the remaining term well. We will fight the next elections with BJP only," he said. ENS

Over 10L visit Pramukh Swami Nagar in 10 days

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

Pramukh Swami Maharaj centenary celebration marked 12th day on Monday| EXPRESS

PRAMUKH Swami Nagar has been abuzz with activities for a fortnight, as lakhs of people from across the world are visiting the venue to participate in the ongoing centenary celebrations of Pramukh Swami Maharaj. Over 10 lakh visitors have made a stop in the town in the last 10 days.

Among the visitors have been Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah, Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani, HDFC Bank chairman Deepak Parekh, Jammu and Kashmir Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha, and Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh chief Mohan Bhagwat. About 80,000 volunteers, comprising businessmen, homemakers and medical, IT and teaching professionals, have been the backbone of the event, ensuring smooth operations.

Raju Patel, who runs a motel business in the United States, took a break for three months to volunteer at the event as a liaison officer. "I have been running a motel business in America for 22 years, and also built a temple there in 1998. I came here two months before the festival started," Patel said. "I shall return after it gets over. This is my religious service to my sect."

Pramukh Swami Maharaj, spiritual guru and head of Bochasanwasi Akshar Purushottam Swaminarayan Sanstha (BAPS) of Swaminarayan sect, passed away at Sarangpur in Botad district of Gujarat on August 13, 2016 at an age of 95 years. Talking about his association with BAPS, Adani said, "When I see what BAPS has created, I am astounded. As many of you know the Adani Group has built some of the largest infrastructure projects in the nation, yet it is humbling for me to see the power of volunteerism here spread over 600 acres of festival grounds of breath-taking colour and beauty, acres and acres of glowing gardens, the towering statue of Pramukh Swami Maharaj, all built by 80,000 volunteers, completed in less than six months. This is unmatchable and there is so much here for even the best global corporations to learn." Parekh highlighted that Pramukh Swami Maharaj was a person "closely connected and aware of the workings of the world." He added: "To my mind, BAPS's philosophy is ultimately about building better societies. This is the need of the hour. This is important because, as they say, the future does not happen; the future is made."

Bhagwat too spoke about the inspiring force of Pramukh Swami Maharaj, and said he had "the great power to identify the smallest positive quality in a person and encouraged that positive trait to develop to enable a person to grow". The month-long festival, which will be on till January 15, is being held at a 600-acre venue on the outskirts of Ahmedabad. The venue features grand gates, exhibitions, a giant replica of Akshardham Mandir, a children's cultural adventureland, assembly arenas hosting cultural and spiritual programmes, and 28 huge statues of great spiritual luminaries of India, such as Adi Shankaracharya, Tulsidas, Buddha, Mahavira Swami, and Swami Vivekanand.

Shot down Ukrainian drone at key Russian airbase kills 3 servicemen

KYIV

THE Russian military reported on Monday that it shot down a Ukrainian drone approaching an airbase deep inside Russia, the second time the airbase has been targeted this month, raising questions about the effectiveness of Russia's air defences if drones can fly that far into the country. Russia's Defense Ministry said the incident took place in the early hours of Monday, and three servicemen were killed by debris at the Engels airbase that houses the Tu-95 and Tu-160 nuclear-capable strategic bombers that have been involved in launching strikes on Ukraine.

Engels is located in Russia's Saratov region on the Volga river, more than 600 kilometres east of the border with Ukraine. No damage was inflicted on Russian aircraft, the ministry said. Ukrainian Air Force spokesperson Yurii Ihnat did not directly acknowledge his country's involvement in Monday's incident but said, "These are the consequences of Russian aggression." He added, "If the Russians thought that the war would not affect them in the deep rear, they were deeply mistaken." Ukrainian officials have never confirmed sending drones into Russia. They have maintained ambiguity over previous high-profile attacks, including drone strikes on Russian military bases earlier this month. Separately, Russia's FSB security service claimed it had killed a group of armed saboteurs from Ukraine that attempted to cross into the Bryansk region carrying "improvised explosive devices". A video released by FSB showed several bloodied bodies sprawled on the ground, wearing winter camouflage and carrying guns. There was no immediate comment from Kyiv. On December 5, unprecedented drone strikes on Engels and the Dyagilevo base in the Ryazan region in western Russia killed a total of three servicemen and wounded four more. The strikes on the airbases were followed by a massive retaliatory missile barrage in Ukraine that struck homes and buildings and killed civilians. Agencies

'Remove Moscow from UN'

Ukraine called for Russia to be removed from the UN. "Ukraine calls on the member states... to deprive Russia of its status as a permanent member of Security Council and to exclude it from the UN as a whole," the foreign ministry said.

Advent to buy majority stake in Suven Pharma

Private equity firm to make open offer for an additional 26% stake to public shareholders at ₹495 per share

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

PRIVATE equity firm Advent International will buy a 50.1% stake in Suven Pharmaceuticals for ₹6,311 crore from its promoters Jasti family.

The Hyderabad-based company, which is a leader in contract development and manufacturing organisation (CDMO), said Advent International will make an additional open offer for up to 26% of the outstanding equity shares of the company from public shareholders at a price of ₹495 per share. The open offer is for a total consideration of ₹3,276 crore.

"The acquirer has entered into a share purchase agreement dated December 26, 2022, with the seller, pursuant to which the acquirer has agreed to acquire from the seller 12,75,37,043 equity shares of the target company representing 50.1% of the voting share capital, completion of which is subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent under the share purchase agreement (SPA), said Suven Pharmaceuticals in a regulatory filing to the BSE.

"The sale of such equity shares under SPA is proposed to be executed at a price of ₹495 per equity share."

Key numbers of the deal

- Advent International to acquire 50.1% stake in Suven Pharmaceuticals
- PE firm to buy stake for ₹6,311 crore from Suven Pharmaceuticals promoters
- Jasti family, promoters of the company, holds 60% in Suven Pharma
- Advent will launch open offer for another 26% equity for ₹3,276 crore
- Suven was demerged from its parent entity, Suven Life Sciences, in 2020
- Has been growing revenues at over 20% over last 4 years

Post the completion, Advent intends to explore merger of its portfolio company, Cohance Lifesciences with Suven, to build a leading end-to-end CDMO and merchant API player servicing the pharma and specialty chemical markets.

The merger will be evaluated by the board taking into consideration strategic rationale and accretiveness to Suven's public shareholders and will be subject to regulatory approvals and other customary approvals.

"Advent is the ideal partner for us, with deep expertise in healthcare and a global network of professionals and experts. Their experience and resources will launch the next phase of growth for Suven pharma. This move will benefit Suven platform immensely. The proposed collaboration with Cohance is a win-win for Suven and its public shareholders," said Venkateswarlu Jasti, managing director at Suven Pharmaceuticals. Suven was demerged from its parent entity, Suven Life Sciences, in 2020, and has been growing revenues at over 20% over the last four years and expanded its operating profit margins by over 43%. "We plan to build on Suven's capabilities and make it one of the global leaders in the CDMO space. We intend to explore a merger of Cohance with Suven in a manner which is synergistic and accretive for Suven's shareholders." said Shweta Jalan, Managing Partner and head of Advent International in India. "Our vision for Suven is to build a $1 billion global leader, ," said Pankaj Patwari, MD at Advent International.

'2023 to see lowest global growth since turn of century'

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Tata Sons Chairman N Chardrasekaran on Monday pointed out global environment risk factors and said that slowing global growth may act as a drag on output.

"The global environment has several risk factors, including the energy crisis in Europe, the battle to contain inflation to avoid recession, and ongoing geopolitical conflicts could tamper the growth. Barring the pandemic and the global financial crisis, next year may mark the lowest global growth since the millennium began. We will need to keep careful watch on commodity price rises, in particular," said Chardrasekaran.

These concerns by the head of India's largest conglomerate comes at a time when rise in commodity prices has pushed prices of products across segments to record high levels and many top financial institutions have cut down India's GDP growth estimate for the current fiscal and financial year 2024. Add to it, the ongoing war between Russia and Ukraine continues to heat geopolitical tensions. "That said, next year we are likely to see inflation gradually moderate. India is well positioned, and we will continue to be the fastest growing major economy, supported by increasing consumption, consumer confidence and investment. Slowing global growth may act as a drag on output, but our rising share of global manufacturing should provide some buffer/insulation," said Chardrasekaran.

Chandrasekaran, in a year end message to Tata employees, also mentioned the milestones achieved by the group which included taking back the control of Air India; the launch of Tata Neu; and Tata Motors passenger vehicles crossing 500,000 cars sold within a calendar year, with Tata EV cars accounting for 10% of the total sales. Tata Group, which had founded Air India in the 1930s, took back the control of the airline in January this year and since then implemented multiple changes, including consolidation of group airlines. Tata Neu, meanwhile, is yet to challenge the might of leading e-commerce players. He said India is well placed, and the Tata Group has tremendous opportunity.

Mother Dairy increases milk prices by ₹2/ltr in Delhi-NCR

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FOR the fifth time this year and second time in two-months, Mother Dairy is increasing milk prices.

The dairy major will increase the prices of full-cream milk by ₹2 to ₹66 per litre in Delhi-NCR market effective Tuesday, while the toned milk price has been revised to ₹53 per litre from ₹51 per litre. The double-toned milk rate has been increased to ₹47 per litre from ₹45 per litre.

However, the prices of cow milk and token (bulk vended) milk variants will remain unchanged. Mother Dairy has attributed the price increase to higher costs of procuring raw milk from dairy farmers.

"It is an unprecedented year for the dairy industry. We have been witnessing a significant increase in demand for milk and milk products from both consumers and institutions, even after festivals. On the other hand, procurement of raw milk has not picked up after Diwali as was anticipated," the company said. Mother Dairy's main competitor and leading player Amul said they have no immediate plans to raise milk prices. R S Sodhi, MD of Gujarat Cooperative Milk Marketing Federation (GCMMF), which markets milk under the Amul brand, said there is no plan to increase its milk prices in the near future.

CRITICISING the conduct of Boman R Irani of Rustomjee Group for obtaining the Yezdi trademark of the Ideal Jawa (India) Ltd, when it is under liquidation, the Karnataka High Court restrained Irani and Classic Legends Pvt Ltd, and any others from using the trademark Yezdi or any other mark containing the word Yezdi as a word or a device whether independently or in conjunction with other words including all domain names which use the word/mark Yezdi.

An application was filed by the official liquidator and the Ideal Jawa Employees Association against the grant of Yezdi to Irani. Justice SR Krishna Kumar observed that Irani could not have obtained registration of the marks Yezdi when it is winding up. Irani's conduct in obtaining registration is in bad faith and amounts to the misappropriation of the company's assets. All trademark and registration certificates issued by the Registrar of Trademarks, Mumbai, Delhi and Ahmedabad in favour of Irani are null and void, said the judge, while keeping the order in abeyance for one month.

Directing Irani and Classic Legends Pvt Ltd each to pay Rs 10 lakh to the official liquidator towards the cost of utilisation and distribution in process of winding up the company, the court said both Irani and Classic Legends are liable to account and pay to the Ideal Jawa for all claims made from the use of the trademarks of the Jawa.

The court directed the official liquidator to appoint a reputed chartered accountant to determine the benefit accrued to Irani and Classic Legends from the Jawa trademark.

If there is any application pending for registration by Irani or Classic Legends or any person claiming through or under them it shall be closed by the Registrar of Trademarks of Ahmedabad, Mumbai and New Delhi and no grant or registrations shall be made against such applications.

Market ends 4-day losing streak, gains more than 1%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

INDIA'S equity market on Monday snapped its four-day losing streak with the benchmarks Sensex and Nifty gaining over 1 % each.

As value buying emerged at lower levels, Sensex surged 1.20% to close at 60,566 while the Nifty closed 1.17% higher at 18,014.60. Meanwhile, rupee closed 21 paise higher at 82.65 a dollar on Monday against Friday's close of 82.86. "After a four-day selloff, the domestic market was refuelled by bottom fishing and optimistic sentiment from global counterparts. PSBs led the rally, while mid- and small-cap stocks outpaced the benchmark," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial. Nair added that contrary to the trend, global concerns over the recession and Covid spread continue to remain high, which will sustain volatility.

Ajit Mishra, VP - technical research, Religare Broking, warned that participants shouldn't read much into a single day's rebound and wait for the sustainability of the move. "We have next hurdle around 18,150-18,200 zone in Nifty, so we recommend utilising further recovery to reduce positions. In absence of any major event, the upcoming expiry of December month derivatives contracts will keep traders busy," added Mishra. India's equity market faced selling pressure last week and registered its biggest weekly fall in 6 months owing to rising Covid fears in China and expectations that the US Fed and other central banks would continue to hike benchmark interest rates to tame inflation.

DoT to meet telcos over call drop issue

IN a bid to improve quality of telecom service, the Department of Telecommunications is likely to meet telecom operators on December 28, 2022.

As per industry sources, telecom secretary K Rajaraman will chair the meeting and will direct the telcos to improve their call drops problem and slow down internet services. After the launch of 5G services by Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel, call drop problem has gone up manifold. There have been constant complaints from consumers of slow internet and call drops across the country. Therefore, the telecom department wants to direct the operators to maintain the quality of the service. However, the monitoring of quality of services comes under the domain of telecom regulator TRAI. ENS

Third-party data not shared with app developers, Google tells House panel

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

WHEN industry representatives questioned whether Apple and Google misuse their position as operators of app stores by giving an advantage in rankings to their own apps over those of competitors, tech giant Google replied that it has formal policies prohibiting the company-wide sharing of identifiable data about third-party apps gathered by Play.

Since app stores enable the discovery of apps through search function, this opens an avenue for Apple and Google to misuse their position as operators of app stores, industry representatives told the standing committee on finance that tabled its report on anti-competitive practices by big tech companies in Lok Sabha last week

In its response, Google said third-party data is not shared with Google's first-party app developers to unfairly advantage them. Amazon said it is governed by the FDI policy and it strictly complies with that policy. "This means Amazon India can't and doesn't assume a dual role on its marketplace by offering retail products for sale to consumers," it said.

Earlier the Competition Commission of India (CCI) had said, "If somebody makes a complaint that they are not following platform neutrality, we should have a faster mechanism to deal with that issue."

Also, industry representatives raised the issue of the billing system. According to them, though the majority of the developers in India don't use the proprietary billing system of Google, they are heavily dependent on Google Play Store for their discovery and review process. They say app stores make it difficult for them as they bundle all services into one. "The size and ubiquity of the dominant app stores, which benefit immensely from being pre-installed on their own operating systems, makes it almost impossible to negotiate the quantum or threshold for commissions," they said.

51% govt projects face delay, cost escalates 22%

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

OVER 51% of government projects costing ₹150 crore and above are seeing delays in completion as on December 1, 2022, government data shows.

In November 2020, 32% of the projects showed delays in completion and in March 2018, only 19% projects were delayed.

The number of projects showing cost overruns as of December 1, 2022, was 22%, higher than 13% in March 2018. The report shows the total cost escalation has been to the tune of ₹4.5 lakh crore, which is 22% more than the original project cost. A report released by the Infrastructure and Project Monitoring Division of the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MOSPI) shows. "The projects got delayed mainly due to delay in land acquisition, obtaining forest/environment clearances, lack of infrastructure support, delay in tie-up of project financing and law and order issues," says the report.

A Kotak Institutional Securities report suggests the delays could be due to disruption from the Covid pandemic but the large slippages are concerning nonetheless. There was a steady fall in total number of projects under execution in the eighth month of FY23. Meanwhile, average time overrun in delayed projects stands at 42 months. The majority of the delay is seen in roads, railways and petroleum sectors. As per the report, in November, out of 1,476 projects, 16 projects were added and 54 projects, majorly comprising road projects, were completed. "756 projects are delayed with respect to their original schedules and 304 projects have reported additional delays vis-à-vis their date of completion reported in the previous month. Of these 304 projects, 58 are mega projects costing ₹1,000 crore and above," the report added.

Mass exodus: Pilots, top executives exit Jet Airways as uncertainty continues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AMID growing uncertainty over Jet Airways' comeback, some of its senior management, pilots, and cabin crew have left the grounded airline, according to sources.

There are also reports that few senior executives have been sent on leave without pay and the airline's chief executive officer, Sanjiv Kapoor, and chief financial officer, Vipula Gunatilleka, continue to work with a pay cut.

Jalan Kalrock consortium emerged as the winning bidder for Jet Airways under the insolvency resolution process in June 2021. Despite hiring industry veterans to commence operations, the airline continues to remain grounded.

Sources said that the vice President of engineering and human resources have left the airline. Some pilots and cabin crew have also left the airline to find better opportunities in operational airlines as some of them are on a hiring spree.

Details about the current employee strength at the airline could not be verified.

A senior executive at the airline, according to PTI, said the upside potential of a revived Jet Airways is tremendous for all stakeholders and customers. Earlier, the carrier had reduced salaries for many staff and sent many employees on leave without pay amid uncertainty over its future course.

In October, the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) directed the consortium to pay the unpaid provident fund and gratuity dues of employees of the carrier. Against that backdrop, the consortium, on November 18, said it might take "difficult" near-term decisions to manage cash flows.

"While we await the handover of the company as per the NCLT process, the longer-than-expected time being taken for the same may result in some difficult but necessary near-term decisions to manage our cashflows to secure the future, while the airline is still not in our possession," it had said.

GOVERNMENT job preparation app Adda247, which is backed by Google, has granted stock options under its Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) programme to its employees.

The total valuation is nearly ₹150 crore and has an annual vesting period of four years.

Saurabh Bansal, co-founder and COO, Adda247, said they first announced the ESOP policy in 2016. The company rewarded nearly 10% of its workforce across levels and bands.

Anil Nagar, founder and CEO, Adda247, said, "The entire purpose of ESOP policy is to give priority and importance to our employees. Through the policy, we want employees to grow with the organisation and reap monetary benefits for themselves. Eventually, we want to generate wealth for all our employees with the dream to create at least a hundred crorepatis from our employees prior to our IPO." This year alone, many start-ups announced ESOP buyback including Shipsy, Innoviti Technologies and Niyo, among others.

5G4E next growth strategy: Tech Mahindra

Tech Mahindra, which has opted for direct 5G spectrum allocation from government, mentioned 5G4E is their next growth strategy and it is already doing multiple pilots on it across the world

'5G for enterprises yet to witness growth'

IT major Tech Mahindra on Monday said the world is yet to see sufficient growth in 5G for enterprises (5G4E), but this will change in the coming year.

The company, which has opted for direct 5G spectrum allocation from government, mentioned 5G4E is their next growth strategy and it is already doing multiple pilots on it across the world. "5G will be used to develop revolutionary applications and innovative use cases in industries such as manufacturing, healthcare, BFSI and autonomous driving to name a few. For us at Tech Mahindra, the 5G playbook is at three levels – for telecom, ecosystem and for the enterprise. We see 5G4E as our next growth strategy and we are already doing multiple pilots on it across the world," said Manish Vyas, President, communications, Media and Entertainment Business and CEO, Network Services, Tech Mahindra. During the 5G spectrum auction, the government decided to allot direct spectrum to the enterprises too for captive networks.

INDIA'S OPEN AND SHUT CONUNDRUM

Only two 50-plus opening stands in 13 Test innings for India in 2022

GOMESH S @ Chennai

23.61. This is how much Indian openers collectively average in Test cricket this year. In seven Tests, they have accumulated 614 runs. Among the nine teams that have played the longest format, they rank the lowest with Pakistan (50.67) and West Indies (49.77) leading the charts. As the year 2022 comes to an end, if one were to look at why India have managed to lose three (all outside Asia) of the seven games they have played, it is hard not to discuss the form of the top-order, especially the openers.

Over the past 12 months, India have used Rohit Sharma, KL Rahul, Mayank Agarwal, Shubman Gill and Cheteshwar Pujara at the top. While Rohit and Rahul started the year as first-choice openers, having done exceedingly well in England in 2021, thanks to injury and Covid, they are yet to bat together again since that series. If it was Rohit's injury in South Africa, Rahul was ruled out from February till September and the former was again injured in Bangladesh.

With the constant change, albeit forced, at the top, India average 32.53 for the first wicket partnership across 13 innings this year. They have had only two 50-plus opening partnerships and six times have lost the first wicket before getting past the 30-run mark. The shuffling of pairs notwithstanding, what stands out is the fact that in 26 innings (of individual openers), only three have managed to score a half-century. To be precise, Pujara and Rahul have a fifty each to show — it is important to note that the former's was an one-off injury-driven move to the top — along with Gill's hundred in Bangladesh.

One could argue that Pakistan and West Indies openers had a lot of home Tests while India had three outside Asia of seven. But the four Tests India played in the subcontinent don't paint a good picture either. Often, it has been the middle-order or the lower middle-order that has bailed India out time and again. India's No. 5-8 collectively average 41.13 this year and have more than 1450-plus scores, including four hundreds. The No. 5 and 6 (1148) have accumulated 534 runs more than the openers (614) in 2022.

It pretty much sums up the pattern for India. Since the start of 2019, Rohit has by and large been their most consistent batter. In fact, he has been one the best in the world. Among players with a minimum of 10 Tests in this period, no one has a higher average than Rohit (55.42). In 2022, he had one off series against Sri Lanka and did not feature in the rest of the series due to injuries.

At a time when the team is heading into transition, India need solidity at the top. They cannot rely entirely on Pujara — their No. 3 who has scored more runs than any other Indian since 2019 — and middle-order to rescue them every single time. Not at a time when their No. 4, Virat Kohli, is still struggling to regain some form in the format. The players know that too. Rahul, who averaged 17.12 across four Tests in 2022, acknowledged his poor show and said that it was hard to shift formats, having not played a Test match since January 2022.

> Obviously performance in this series was not great. I can accept that. I tried my best and it didn't work. I can look forward and see what I can do better next time — KL Rahul

India's next Test assignment is in February 2023. Unless injured, Rohit is likely to return and take his place at the top even though there are concerns over his workload management. With Gill slowly settling in the role, it is yet to be seen if Rahul gets his next chance in the first Test against Australia. Irrespective of who walks out to open the batting with Rohit, come 2023 they would want the pair to step up and pile on some runs. For it might not be long before law of averages catch up with the middle and lower middle-order that have been nothing but incredible.

INDIAN TEST OPENERS IN 2022

Name	Mat	Runs	Avg	100	50
Gill	3	178	29.66	1	0
Rahul	4	137	17.12	0	1
Mayank	4	130	18.57	0	0
Rohit	2	90	30	0	0
Pujara	1	79	39.5	0	1

Ranji Trophy: Tamil Nadu look to turn on the heat in Delhi winter

GOMESH S @ Chennai

THE country's capital is facing a severe cold wave — the morning temperature on Monday was five degree Celsius — so much so that the government schools will remain closed in Delhi from January 1 to January 15. The morning temperature on Tuesday is expected to be no different. And yet, as Tamil Nadu and Delhi teams get ready for their Ranji Trophy clash at the Arun Jaitley Stadium, they will be feeling the heat.

For starters, Delhi are coming into the match after having lost to Maharashtra and conceding a first-innings lead to Assam. What more, it seems like they are plagued with injuries, with Simarjeet Singh, too, has been ruled out due to a heel injury and left-hand batter Nitesh Rana has been dropped owing to his poor form. And one has to wait and see how they shape up in their first home game.

On the other hand, Tamil Nadu managed first innings lead against Hyderabad before facing an agonising defeat at home versus Andhra. However, head coach M Venkataramana is not worried too much about the mood in the dressing room. "Winning and losing will come and go. We are happy that it has happened in the early part of the tournament," the former India spinner told this daily.

While Tamil Nadu brought in left-arm spinner S Ajith Ram for the match against Andhra in place of Aswin Crist, considering the conditions and climate in the national capital, it is likely that they might go back to playing three front-line seamers. Although he bowled only nine overs in Coimbatore, that Tamil Nadu have an additional option in Vijay Shankar should come in handy. "If required, definitely we will use him. He will play a big role," said Venkataramana.

As for taking on a team that is under the pump, TN are keen on focussing on their strengths rather than looking at what Delhi have done. "They are always a good side. They know the conditions better. All we believe is we have the potential and talent. This is the best place where we can show our potential against a strong side," he added.

Through the season and in the first two matches, the openers, especially Sai Sudharsan, have given a good start to them. While the team management is confident of them continuing the good work, they are not worried too much about putting a big total upfront. "We will look to get used to the conditions, keep wickets in hand, do all the basics right," signed off the head coach.

Pak govt will decide on sending team to India

KARACHI: The decision to send the Pakistan team for the 2023 ODI World Cup in India will be taken at the government level, the new Pakistan Cricket Board chairman Najam Sethi has said. Speaking with reference to the threat made by his predecessor, Ramiz Raja, that Pakistan will consider pulling out of the event if India didn't come to Pakistan for the Asia Cup, Sethi said, "Where Pakistan and India's cricket relations are concerned, let's be clear. (The) decisions on whether to play or not play tour or not tour are always taken at the government level."

Erigaisi in joint lead with Carlsen

ALMATY (KAZAKHSTAN): India's star player Koneru Humpy won three games in four rounds to share the joint second place with four others in the women's event of the FIDE World Rapid Chess Championships which kicked off here on Monday. In the open section, young Indian GM Arjun Erigaisi is in joint lead with 4.5 points from five rounds along with world No. 1 Magnus Carlsen and Vladimir Fedoseev after holding the Norwegian superstar in round five. The world Blitz championship will be held from December 30.

CHENNAI: The curtains will come down on the MMSC FMSCI Indian National Motorcycle Drag Racing Championship with Rounds 2, 3 and 4, set to be staged at the Madras International (MIC) from Dec 27-30. While the first round of the four-round championship was held in July, the subsequent outings could not be held as scheduled due to monsoon and the Mandhus cyclone that severely impacted the region. As such, Madras Motor Sports Club, decided to bunch the remaining three rounds and complete the championship.

Green takes 5 as batting woes continue for SA

AP @ Melbourne

RIDING a wave of emotion provided by a festive crowd at Melbourne Cricket Ground, Cameron Green claimed the best bowling figures of his Test career as Australia bowled South Africa out for 189 on Day 1 of the second Test. Pace bowler Green (5-27) gave the enthusiastic fans something to cheer about by triggering a late-order collapse of five wickets for 10 runs as the 23-year-old claimed his first five-wicket haul in Tests on Monday.

Leading the three-match series one-nil, Australia reached 45-1 at stumps before a crowd of 64,876. David Warner was unbeaten on 32 with Marnus Labuschagne on five, leaving the home side 144 runs behind with nine wickets in hand, after Usman Khawaja fell caught behind for one to Kagiso Rabada. Choosing to bowl first, Australia was on top shortly after lunch with South Africa struggling at 67-5 before Kyle Verreynne (52) and Marco Jansen (59) added 112 for the sixth wicket. It was South Africa's seventh consecutive test total under 200. Brief scores: South Africa 189 in 68.4 ovs (Jansen 59, Verreynne 52; Green 5/27) vs Australia 45/1 in 12 ovs (Warner 32 batting).

Babar, Sarfaraz lift Pakistan to 317-5

Karachi: Babar Azam hit his ninth hundred and Sarfaraz Ahmed returned to Test cricket after nearly four years with an impressive 86 as Pakistan overcame a top-order collapse to reach 317-5 against New Zealand on Monday in the first Test.

Babar was not out on 161 with 16 fours and a six and Sarfaraz — playing his first Test since January 2019 — grinded well in his long awaited 50th Test to give Pakistan an early advantage on a slow and dry wicket. They shared a 196-run stand to lift Pakistan from 110-4. Brief scores: Pakistan 317/5 in 90 ovs (Babar 161 batting, Sarfaraz 86; Patel 2/91) vs New Zealand.

IOA EC meet: Discussion on various issues

ENS @ Chennai

APPOINTMENT of Chief Executive Officer, auditing the accounts and forming committees seem to be some of the major discussion points during the first executive committee meeting of the newly-elected Indian Olympic Association in New Delhi on Monday.

According to members it was a long meeting and was attended by almost all members. The process for appointment of CEO, who according to the constitution should run day-to-day activities of the IOA, too will begin. But auditing of accounts will be a challenge. As reported by this newspaper, roles and responsibilities of EC members too will be fixed. IOA president PT Usha is expected to form committees and sub-committees to address various issues. As per the constitution, the CEO will be decided by the IOA president, International Olympic Committee (IOC) member and senior vice president. Some of the members are expected to meet on Tuesday as well.

Poonam punches gold despite switch

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

WHILE national championships (senior) doesn't attract huge following like other international events, its significance cannot be discounted. Established names enter the event to maintain their numero uno status. And there are some budding stars looking to announce themselves. Take the case of boxer Poonam Poonia, who was taking part in the just-concluded Bhopal event in the 60kg category. Representing Railways Sports Promotion Board (RSPB), the Haryana athlete grabbed the opportunity with both hands to stun Simranjit Kaur, a former World Championship medallist, to claim the top prize.

More importantly, this gold medal return has elevated her status and made her one of the candidates to represent the country during the upcoming World Championships, which is due to be held next year. Her mantra was simple, giving her best and not worrying about the outcome. "It was a great experience. I was just intent on giving my best. I was not worried about the results. I'm really happy with my performance," Poonam told this daily.

Poonam Poonia

The fact that she beat an Olympian in Simranjit makes it sweeter. "I was not thinking too much. I was just trying to take this bout as any other bout. It was great facing us. This has given me plenty of confidence and hopefully, I can step up further and put up a consistent level of performance at the elite level."Even more impressive is the fact that she was competing in the 60kg weight category for just the first time in her career. Interestingly, her elder sister Sonu Poonia, someone who has been a huge support, was also one of the 300-odd participants. That was one of the two key reasons she climbed to the 60kg category from 57kg, a category in which she had won gold during the 2021 World Youth Championships in Kielce, Poland. "Ye maine aise hi karliya tha (I did it just like that). Also, Sonu was participating in the 57kg category. My weight also went up and down," Poonam, who had clinched gold during the National Games (an event which was held in September-October) in the 57kg category, said.

This might have been a relatively easy decision but she has shown that she can handle tough situations. Before the aforementioned world youth meet, she had a hard choice to make. She had an opportunity to take part in Railways recruitment trails and secure her future or take a shot at the world youth meet. The schedule for both the events were clashing. As she comes from a humble background, the importance of a regular source of income cannot be undermined. However, with the help of her father, who's into farming in Haryana, she chose the latter. "It was a difficult decision. I was caught in two minds. Then my father encouraged me to take part in the world event, saying I'll get more job opportunities in the future," the 20-year-old reflected.After her success in Poland last year, she got what she had sacrificed earlier. She got an offer from Railways and she joined the organisation in April this year.

Poonam now is eager to rise further and establish her name at the elite level. "I want to continue to develop. I want to gradually add more tools in my game," she signed off.

LOVLINA, NIKHAT CHAMPIONS

Lovlina Borgohain and Nikhat Zareen were among winners. Lovlina, who was representing Assam, was too strong for Arundhati Choudhary of Services Sports Control Board (SSCB) in the 75kg final. Nikhat, meanwhile, was made to work hard on the day. The Telangana boxer beat RSPB's Anamika in the 50kg gold medal match with a split verdict (4-1). Haryana's Manisha (57kg) and Saweety (81kg), SSCB's Sakshi (52kg), Madhya Pradesh's Manju Bamboria (66kg), Manju Rani (48kg), Shiksha (54kg), Shashi Chopra (63kg) and Nupur (+81kg) (all Railways), Manipur's Sanamacha Thokchom Chanu (70kg) also clinched gold medals in their respective categories.

Conte hails Spurs 'character' after thrilling fightback against Brentford

AP @ London

ANTONIO Conte hailed Harry Kane's character after the England captain recovered from his World Cup heartache to help Tottenham rescue a 2-2 draw at Brentford, while Newcastle climbed to second place with a 3-0 win at Leicester on Monday.

In the first Premier League fixture since the World Cup break in mid-November, Tottenham were in danger of a damaging defeat after Vitaly Janelt and Ivan Toney put Brentford in command at the Community Stadium.

Janelt fired home after 15 minutes with a close-range finish after Tottenham keeper Fraser Forster spilled Mathias Jensen's shot.

Toney struck from close-range in the 54th minute from Christian Norgaard's flick on.

But Kane netted with a 65th minute header to start the Tottenham recovery in his first game since missing a crucial penalty in England's World Cup quarter-final defeat against France. Brentford have not beaten Tottenham since 1948 and their long wait for a victory over the north Londoners goes on after Pierre-Emile Hojbjerg curled home with 19 minutes left. Tottenham boss Conte praised England captain Kane for his contribution following his World Cup disappointment.

Newcastle United's Joelinton (L) celebrates with teammates Bruno Guimaraes (C) and Sven Botman (R) after scoring their third goal against Leicester on Sunday | AFP

"When he came back he was good. We know the importance of Harry for us, his personality, his character. He's the best player we have. I'm happy that he scored today," Conte said.

"Since last season we have made a good step. Now we have to continue to push ourselves. It is not easy. We have shown big character," Conte said.

Tottenham stay fourth in the table, four points ahead of fifth-placed Manchester United in the race to qualify for the Champions League.

Newcastle are three points ahead of Tottenham as their unexpected push for a top four finish gathers pace.

The Magpies, revitalised by boss Eddie Howe since their Saudi-backed takeover, were ahead with less than three minutes on the clock when Chris Wood converted a penalty awarded for Daniel Amartey's foul on Joelinton.

Newcastle doubled their lead in sublime fashion in the sixth minute as Miguel Almiron played a one-two with Bruno Guimaraes and slotted past Danny Ward for his eighth goal in his last eight league games.

Joelinton headed home from a corner in the 32nd minute as Newcastle made it six successive league victories -- their best run in the competition since 2012. Everton suffered a damaging 2-1 defeat against relegation rivals Wolves as Rayan Ait-Nouri struck in final seconds for the visitors at Goodison Park.

Yerry Mina gave Everton a seventh minute lead when the Colombia defender headed home from Dwight McNeil's corner. Wolves levelled midway through the first half as Joao Moutinho's cross was volleyed in by Daniel Podence. Ait-Nouri poked home from close range after Everton failed to deal with a counter-attack in the fifth minute of stoppage-time.

Third bottom Wolves now sit only one point behind fourth bottom Everton, whose manager Frank Lampard is under increasing pressure.

Results: Brentford 2-2 Tottenham; Palace 0-3 Fulham; Everton 1-2 Wolves; Leicester 0-3 Newcastle; Southampton 1-3 Brighton.

DAY'S DIARY

Assassination

Benazir Bhutto who served two terms as PM of Pakistan was murdered on this day in 2007 by a 15-year-old suicide bomber called Bilal

THE ATTACK

Bilal had been asked to carry out the attack by the Pakistani Taliban. Benazir Bhutto had just finished an election rally in Rawalpindi when he shot at her and blew himself up

EARLY LIFE

Benazir Bhutto was the daughter of the politician Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, who was the leader of Pakistan from 1971. He groomed her to be his political successor

ALLEGATIONS

Former president and military ruler Pervez Musharraf is alleged to have been part of a broad conspiracy to have Bhutto killed before elections

2022 ROLL UP ROLL IN

SCENE STEALERS

2022 saw a whole list of Bengalureans making headlines not just in India but across the world. Some made their presence felt on the global platform, some tied the knot and some welcomed their bundle of joy. The list goes on...

MONIKA MONALISA

THEY made headlines and created that buzz. From news stories to social media posts, they impacted global platforms through their hardwork. And some turned out plain lucky when the world turned to shower love on their personal milestones.

But first

Dimpled beauty from Bengaluru, Deepika Padukone made global headlines through the year. Padukone added many firsts to India's list this year. The first Indian brand ambassador for Italian luxury brand Louis Vuitton, unveiling the FIFA World Cup 2022 in Qatar, launching her skincare brand...she made every Indian root for her. She also walked the red carpet at the Cannes Film Festival 2022 as a jury member.

Second-time win

Ricky Kej won his second Grammy award for Divine Tides, in the category of Best New Age Album, along with rock legend Stewart Copeland. Already a familiar face at this coveted music awards' function, Kej touched people's hearts when he brought Indian culture to the forefront by touching Copeland's feet out of respect. He also made a statement by repeating his outfit on the influential platform, stirring a discussion about normalising celebrities repeating outfits.

French connection

CANNES Film Festival looked familiar this year with Bengalureans taking steps in the French Riviera. While India was the country of focus at Cannes, city-based chef Manu Chandra ensured the world gets a taste of Indian flavours. Khichdi to paniyaram, with podi and coconut chutney, Chandra had it all covered. At the event, Raghu Dixit also crooned some melodies bringing his signature folksy voice to the international stage. Sandalwood actors were present at the festival and director Shruthi Raju was also there for her film What's Up with Indian Men?

The good and not-so-good

Actor Pranitha Subhash was blessed with a baby girl in June, whom she named Arna. Along with such a big milestone in her personal life, the actor, who was seen in movies like Hungama 2 and Bhuj: The Pride of India, had a few controversies that came her way. She was trolled for a picture of her's where she was sitting on the ground at her husband's feet while performing a ritual for Bheemana Amavasya.

Made a lot of noise

RISHAB Shetty's Kantara put Sandalwood on the global map as it unanimously impressed the audience and critics at the same time. You know the fever is real when a movie, based on the Bhoota Kola rituals from coastal Karnataka, makes its presence felt in the company of much bigger-budgeted flicks. Shetty, in a traditional dhoti and shirt while representing the movie, won people's hearts too.

Wedding Bells

After four years of a hush-hush courtship, fashion designer Aviva Bidapa, daughter of fashion guru Prasad Bidapa, and Abishek Ambareesh, son of late rebel actor Ambareesh and MP Sumalata , got engaged in an intimate ceremony. The couple is going to tie the knot in the first half of 2023.

Joy beyond cricket

It was a double whammy for cricketer Mayank Agarwal, who became a proud father to baby boy Aayansh, this December. On the professional front, the international cricketer was picked by the team Sunrisers Hyderabad in the recently held IPL auction.

Taste of Bengaluru

Move over lattes... when strong filter coffee from Vidyarthi Bhavan hits the right note, you need none else. At least the co-founder of Starbucks, Zev Siegl seems to think so. Siegl, who was in the city, enjoyed their signature masala dosae and filter coffee, and left a note for the team. The eatery known for its traditional dosae has always been one of the pit stops for many dignitaries who have visited the city. They also posted a picture on their social media of UK PM Rishi Sunak – who has a Bengaluru connect – visiting them.

TOP OF THE the game

From winning international medals for the country to loads of controversies, it has been a mixed bag of events in the sporting world. Here is CE's list of B'lureans who made their mark in sports

MONIKA MONALISA

THE multi-faceted city that Bengaluru is, it has been home to some talented sportsmen who have gone ahead to make history and made India proud.

BADMINTON

It was a dream come true for Vimal Kumar, when India lifted the Thomas Cup. India beat the 14-time champ Indonesia 3-0 in the final in Bangkok. Lakshya Sen, Srikanth Kidambi, Chirag Shetty, Satwiksairaj Rankireddy, Prannoy H S, Dhruv Kapila, Anurag Thakur, Arjun M R and Priyanshu Rajawat were representing India at the tournament. Kumar, the manager for team India, had told CE in an earlier interview, "It has been a good year for India, with the country witnessing its first Thomas Cup win." Sen was clearly the champ and got a star-studded welcome post winning a gold at the Commonwealth Games 2022. The player, who is currently training at the Prakash Padukone Badminton Academy, also reached his career best ranking of No. 6. He received an Arjuna award as well, the second-highest sporting honour of India.

SWIMMING

City-based swimmer and paralympian Niranjan Mukundan, took part in the 2022 Commonwealth Games that took place at Birmingham. Mukundan, who finished at the seventh position, was one of the 200-plus athletes from India at the tournament. He was also part of the grand opening, which happened at the Alexander Stadium in Birmingham. He has also qualified for the World Championships 2023.

CRICKET

Roger Binny was appointed as the 36th and incumbent president of BCCI. The B'lurean, who was part of 1983 World Cup winning Indian cricket team, was the former president of the Karnataka State Cricket Association. He also came under the scanner after a former Madhya Pradesh Cricket Association member complained about conflict of interest as Binny's daughter-in-law is as an anchor for a sports channel that has the season's cricketing rights.

TENNIS

Rohan Bopanna made history after he qualified for his maiden French Open Men's Doubles semi-final, along with his doubles partner Matwe Middelkoop. His qualification helped him return to the top 25 in doubles.

STARTUP WATCH

BACKGROUND

Pranay Jivrajka, the founding-partner of Ola, was looking at exploring other avenues when the second wave of Covid-19 struck. He saw his dad, who owns a pharmacy, giving medicines to folks in need at that time. After seeing how dependent the nation was on healthcare during the pandemic, he decided to explore the healthcare space. He went to clinics and hospitals to observe how they operated daily. After several rounds, he realised that despite the prevalence of sexual issues, most were reluctant to discuss them. Initially, he got awkward looks from people when he asked them about 'bedroom problems'. After some persuasion, people began discussing their problems. Some had erectile dysfunction, while others experienced vaginismus, premature ejaculation, etc. The more he discussed it, the more certain he became that he would find a business in the field of sexual wellness. In the following six months, Allo Health was formed.

USP

Consultations, therapy sessions, home testing and home delivery of medicines are some of the services they provide. Through their tri-aging method, their specialists assess the patient while taking both their physical and mental needs into account. They provide doctors with data-backed recommendations to ensure the delivery of the most accurate and effective results while providing clinically proven solutions with full accountability.

FINANCE FUNDA

The seed fundraising round brought in $4.4m under the direction of Nexus Venture Partners. Binny Bansal also contributed to the funding, along with other angel investors.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The age range that seeks assistance for sexual issues is between the ages of 18 and 35.

QUICK FIX

VEGETABLE SEVAI

Contributed by Surkhab Khan, Lucknow

INGREDIENTS

- Sevai/Vermicelli: 3/4 cup
- Water: 1.25 cups
- Onion: 1, chopped
- Tomato: 1, chopped
- Boiled corn: 3 tbsp
- Green peas: 3 tbsp
- Maggi Masala (optional): 1 packet
- Coriander leaves for garnish
- Vegetable oil: 2 tbsp
- Carom seeds: 1/2 tsp
- Capsicum: 2 tbsp, chopped
- Potato: 2 tbsp, small cubes
- Paneer: 2 tbsp, small cubes
- Green chilli: 2, chopped
- Salt to taste
- Lemon juice: 1 tsp

METHOD

- Chop all the vegetables finely. Heat some oil and temper with carom seeds, when it starts crackling add onion. Fry it till it is translucent in colour.
- Then add tomato and capsicum. Sauté for 1-2 minutes on medium flame. Add boiled corn, green chili and peas. Cook for a few more seconds.
- Add vermicelli (sevai). Cook it on a medium flame till it is light golden in colour.
- Add water, salt, potato, lemon juice and paneer. Mix it well.
- Cook covered on a medium flame till it is soft. Garnish with coriander leaves. Serve hot.

FIT BIT

BALASANA BOWING YOGA MUDRA

(CHILD POSE BOWING YOGA MUDRA)

This is a grounding and meditative practice. It helps to open the chest making breathing deeper and full, and lengthens the spine. This stretches both the front and back of the body, with a deeper stretch at the neck, to help go closer to the floor.

STEPS

- Align in Vajrasana (Thunderbolt Pose). Stay here for a couple of breaths keeping the spine neutral.
- Bring the arms behind you and interlock the fingers. Place the arm close to the body stretched downwards. Take a few breaths here.
- Lengthen the spine keeping the torso alert. Inhale, raise the arms and stretch them trying to bring the shoulder blades close to each other.
- Exhale, go forward and reach for the floor stretching the arms and elbows above your head.
- Stretch forward as much as possible by pressing the tummy on the thighs and begin deep, slow breathing for 8 rounds.
- Keep the shoulders away from the ears to avoid compression at the sides of the neck. Pressure is on the lower abdomen that improves digestion.
- After holding the pose as per capacity, release by aligning back to Vajrasana.
- As a counterpose, performing Vajrasana Head Back (Thunderbolt Pose Head Back) is a good option

BENEFITS

- Stretches the spine from the lower, mid, upper vertebrae.
- Ankle, shoulders and knee joints are stretched and strengthened.
- Stretches biceps, triceps, wrists, and forearms.
- Improves the range of motion of the shoulders and neck.
- Releases stiffness at the lumbar spine and muscles.
- Mentally creates an energy of submission, surrender and humility.
- Creates space for more prana (energy).
- Calms the mind, preparing for pranayama and meditation.
- Treats constipation, flatulence or lack of appetite. Stimulates endocrine glands.
- Diabetes and kidney related ailments can be cured.
- Incontinence, infertility, irregular menstruation and prostate gland inflammation can be cured.

LIMITATIONS

People having shoulder, ankle, knee or wrist injuries, high BP, vertigo, migraine or epilepsy, cervical-spondylosis, arthritis weak joints, abdominal hernia or undergone spinal, knee, shoulder or ankle surgeries, senior citizens and pregnant women, avoid.

TAKING THE WORLD HOME, A PIECE AT A TIME

I have just returned from a half-day jaunt to Shravanabelagola. This might have been my umpteenth short trip to the hallowed Jain pilgrim centre, where I'm most at peace.

As always, apart from carrying home the bliss of climbing the two sacred hills and beholding the splendiferous monolith of Lord Bahubali, I have brought back small collectibles that now adorn my living space. This is a little instance of my ideal travel plan to any place on earth coming to an end, culminating in one of the most satisfying moments of travel itself – 'Souvenir-hunting'.

This time, I brought back little idols of the deity and a pack of postcards, among other things. In an era dominated by selfies and Instagram, one may be inclined to ask, 'What is the need to have postcards – a souvenir tradition lost in time?' But I think very differently!

As an avid traveller from a considerably young age, having made trips around India and a few countries abroad, I began to view travel as its own self-sustaining universe. On the one hand, there is the destination itself, with its sights, sounds, flavours, and most importantly, its people. On the other, is the journey, and not to forget the myriad experiences while on it. Finally, bridging these highlights together are memories. A tangible chunk of those memories is saved in a souvenir.

While souvenir-hunting is a very common pastime of most travellers, there is a lot of innate meaning associated with it. Souvenirs are not just incidental keepsakes or an impulse buy to tell the world of one's touristy accomplishments. It's a piece of a place you bring home, which constantly reminds you of what you learnt on your travels. Postcards, miniatures, fridge magnets, local products, et al, relate different stories of your experiences and memories – from something as basic as what you picked up, from whom, from where, for whom, and why, to reflecting the magnificence of the destination it represents. In short, souvenirs are torch-bearers, with far-reaching influence on people, since they are acquired and carried to almost every corner of the planet, and into every home.

For me, a holiday comes to an end only when a part of it is carried home 'hidden' in some souvenirs. Over the course of my several travels, I have picked up a trove of mini-monuments, wall-hangings, magnets, sculptures, cultural relics, antiques, and clothing, among other things, while helping local economies too in the process.

Sometimes, I travel simply to hit the local souvenir markets, obviously after basking in the true glories of that place. My souvenir-hunting odyssey begins weeks ahead of departure. A lot of research later, I make a list of tentative trinkets I covet and where they are sold, followed by a separate souvenir budget. And off I go!

Today, my house echoes fascinating tales and fables from around the world, beautifully narrated by silent souvenirs. The exhibits from the personal museum I have thus created at home, constantly remind me about the diversity that our world represents, along with the unity and equality it stands for – of beauty, oneness, and nature. If only souvenirs could really talk, how much more would they have imparted?!

LOVE IN 2023

AMONG the dozens and dozens of the Christmas-New Year-themed shows that OTT platforms have brought out in the last few weeks, many share a common thread of hope and renewal. That is, after all, the message of the season.

One of them has a couple that seems to be losing themselves through the year, and as they come close to the countdown for 2023, (and yes, it was already the new year for these shows in November,) the couple recollect how they would always spend New Year's Eve together, and typical for these shows, they rush about, barely making it to be together and apologise to each other. Then, they make resolutions together, ending it with this one statement – "I will love you more this new year and better."

The aww factor of the typical romantic comedy aside, it makes one wonder – what if one really makes such a resolution with one's loved one to love each other more and better each year?

Living in relationships is tough. There is so much that can happen to derail one's love for the other. Work happens, and if not that, there's always so many other things – health, family, politics, economy, and now, even the climate. All these stressors and one might want to just shut them all out, and another wants to fight it and get it all out.

As the years go by, people in relationships often end up accepting a minimum standard of togetherness as if it were the maximum love one can get. It does become really difficult to stay in a state of love with each other, let alone love each more. We compare ourselves to parents and others in generations before us, and tell ourselves we aren't entitled to much more than that and don't aim for more for ourselves even if it were possible. It is such a struggle to maintain any love one felt, and how can one even dream even to love each other better in such a difficult world?

Maybe that's why, as we come to end a year and begin a new one afresh, we need to remind each other to love each other more - not less.

One of the greatest sadnesses in life is when we let love wither, shrivel away like how a plump grape does into a raisin, and we let that happen without even being conscious that we let it happen. The year 2022 seems to have passed by so fast – maybe it was because this was the first year after all the pain and angst that was Covid-19, and here we are, entering 2023 with rumbles of another wave possibly rolling in, seeing how China is struggling right now. The thought of more time spent in a pandemic, the lockdowns, the fear of illness and loss – it sends shivers down our spines, and hopefully, whether it is the new year or the fears of another wave of the pandemic, may we keep our loves closer, and promise ourselves to love each other more – and better.

Wrapping Up a Year of Music

IF your social media feeds have been flooded by everyone's Spotify wrapped updates, you aren't alone. Between listeners posting with pride and musicians posting with humility, sharing your Spotify stats seem to have become an important part of pop culture. To the extent that it has made its way into memes and parodies - Zillow has one that is particularly amusing. Apart from reaffirming the global dominance of Taylor Swift, it's also interesting to see how Spotify has managed to turn personal music streaming back into a community experience. A big part of Spotify's success has been a result of its data collection – by tracking which artistes you listen to, which songs you skip, what genres keep you going at which times of the day and using this information to predict what else you might like, it has managed to gain over 450 million subscribers. How this music streaming service took data it was already collecting and turned it into insights worth sharing with the world is truly a masterclass in customer engagement. Presented as Data Stories, Spotify tells you several statistics about your listening habits:

The different genres you listen to (along with top genres), minutes you've listened (and how you've fared in comparison to other subscribers), your most played song, how many songs you listened to, your top 5 songs, top artistes, and how many artistes you listened to in total. It has then taken this data and created three unique, shareable, insights: your listening personality (one of sixteen types), your Audio Day (how your listening patterns vary over the course of a day) and your personal top 100 song playlist.

Younger listeners are all sharing their playlists, listener personalities, and if they were in the top listeners of a particular artiste. It's also a good time for kids to demand their own Spotify account because family listening could skew the results, and there is nothing more embarrassing than a tween having to share that Cocomelon made it to the top 5 artistes of the year. This global engagement exercise just serves to reinforce Spotify's brand as THE streaming service for the young audience.

For creators, the data includes the number of times their songs were streamed, the number of countries listeners are from and for how many listeners you are in the top artiste. It also shows if your number have gone up from the previous year. It has included a new feature of artiste messages, where artistes can engage with their listeners and thank them for listening. By making itself a part of the experience, in the middle of the relationship between the artiste and the listener, Spotify has ensured that it is much more than just a streaming service.

I don't want to be confined to one industry: Anjali Anish

The young talent talks about her debut with director Hariprasad Jayanna's Padavi Poorva that sees its release this week

A SHARADHAA

ANJALI Anish oozes confidence about being able to handle different avenues in her career. The model turns actor with this week's release, Padavi Poorva. She has worked as an assistant director for a Hindi film, Bhaiyaji Superhit and a Kannada film, Ambi Ning Vayassaytho. That's not all, Anjali, who is currently studying law, has also trained in acting at Chicago and the Anupam Kher institute in Mumbai. "I am not here just to be an actor. I want to be a director, and also an entrepreneur. I want to do a bunch of things, and I know everything takes time, but there is always a shelf life as an actor. Eventually, I want to become a full-fledged filmmaker. Once I make good money, I'd like to start a business," says Anjali, adding, "This probably comes from my mother, who is also a lawyer, and she juggles a lot of other things. Likewise, I don't want to be confined in one industry because I know I am capable of doing something more," she says.

A still from the film

Padavi Poorva is set in the 1990s, and the timeline is what attracted Anjali to take up this project. "Usually films go way back to the 60s or 70s. But the 90s were a good time because they are just 25-30 years back. Also, I found a lot of innocence in the film, and it comes through in my character too. Since it is my first film, I wanted to be part of a film that has me playing my age," she says.

While Pruthvi Shamanur, the lead hero, thinks that the film doesn't intend to give a message, Anjali begs to differ. "It depends on person to person and everyone will connect it in a different way. There is not one message, but there are many messages. Audience will find at least one part of the film connecting to them. Overall the message from Padavi Poorva is to spread love and friendship. Secondly, the PUC days play a crucial part in any youngster's life, which has been well captured by the director, and gives a nostalgic feeling," she says.

Anjali says she is a clean slate, and is ready to work in a variety of roles. "I have also worked with director MD Shridhar for Jumbo Circus, which has me portraying a different role, and in complete contrast to my first film. For now, all my attention is on Padavi Poorva, and I'm waiting to see how the audience responds to my first step in cinema," she signs off.

'Made in Bengaluru celebrates the motherly spirit of the city'

First-time director Pradeep Shastry, along with the lead hero Madhusudan Govind, senior actors — Anant Nag, and Saikumar — share their thoughts about this social drama, which is slated to release this week

CE FEATURES

AD filmmaker Pradeep Sastry is set to make his feature film debut with Made in Bengaluru. "This film is especially for people who come to the city, to find their dreams and even themselves. The city is something where you find good people, and good moments even in midst of chaos. This is a place of good ideas because people accept everything here," says Pradeep ahead of the film's release this week.

The director, who is also highlighting the spiritual side of the city in his film says Bengaluru might be a cosmopolitan city but it definitely has its own identity. "We have also dealt with how Bengaluru gives an almost motherly vibe to its residents. This is what I have tried to explore through Made in Bengaluru" he says.

Backed by Balakrishna BS under Rajani Thursday stories banner, Made in Bengaluru will be distributed by producer Manjunath Gowda under the Shalini Artss banner. Madhusudan Govind, who is playing the lead, says, "I love Bengaluru and this character made me back to think about the various mentors I have met in my life."

Madhusudan Govind

Anant Nag

Made In Bengaluru, which has an interesting cast, features senior actors like Anant Nag, Sai Kumar, Jordindian-fame Vineeth Kumar, and Prakash Belawadi representing different parts of Bengaluru.

Pradeep Shastry

Anant Nag says that his character Pal Chandani is based on a good old friend and a man who backed him and Shankar Nag from their Minchina Ota days, and this role is a tribute to his flamboyant personality. "The character is a Sindhi businessman, and it reminded me of the veteran late distributor and it was beautiful to essay the role along with the youngsters," he says.

Saikumar, who plays a gangster called Reddy, says, "My mother too came to this city and was looked after well in Bengaluru. I owe a lot to the city from getting my first recognition as a hero with a Kannada film to contesting elections from the land of Karnataka." The character is a WWF aficionado and does not have the typical traits of a Saikumar role. It does not have dialogue but has a lot of punch in the narrative.

With Puneeth Manja and Vamshidhar in prominent roles, the film's music is scored by Ashwin P Kumar. Made in Bengaluru also features Himanshi Varma, Anurag Puttige, Archana Kottige, Sudha Belawadi, and Manjunath Hegde in interesting characters.

Prabhu Deva wraps up shooting for Wolf

CE FEATURES

THE shooting of Prabhu Deva's upcoming film, Wolf, backed by Sandesh Nagaraj under the banner of Sandesh Productions, has been wrapped up. The multilingual film, which has been shot for 65 days in unique locations of Puducherry, Chennai, Bengaluru, Andaman, and Nicobar, is directed by Vinu Venkatesh, who has also written the story, and the screenplay. The makers, who have completed shooting, have shared a few pics with CE.

Apart from Prabhu Deva, the film also stars Anju Kurian, Lakshmi Rai, Anasuya of Pushpa-fame as part of the cast.

Wolf will have music by Ambareeshan and cinematography by Arul Vincent. Meanwhile, Prabhu Deva is also part of Yogaraj Bhat's Karataka Dhamanaka (KD), where he will be sharing space with Shivarajkumar in the commercial entertainer produced by Rockline Venkatesh.

THE BREAKOUT STARS

We take a look at some of the best talents, across industries, who made quite a splash in Indian cinema this year

VIGNESH MADHU

EVERY new year begins with a sense of hope. Like Andy Dufresne of The Shawshank Redemption said, hope is indeed a good thing, and no good thing ever dies. It is this 'hope' that propels many dreamers despite the umpteen stumbles and setbacks. For some, it might take years to succeed, and for some, it might just be the case of getting the first step right. It depends on many factors—talent, hard work, luck... or is it just a matter of being there at the right place at the right time? I guess it's the combination of all these factors. Here, we look at some of the year's brightest talents from Indian cinema who got this combination right and managed to leave a lasting impression.

KANNADA

KIRANRAJ (Director, 777 Charlie)

Kiranraj's rags-to-riches journey from working as a paper boy, bar waiter, and security guard to becoming a blockbuster debutant filmmaker is in itself a perfect story for an emotionally stirring film. Drawing inspiration from his tough life experiences, Kiran made 777 Charlie, a heartwarming film about a bond between a broken man and his furry friend. The Rakshit Shetty-starrer emerged as one of the bonafide pan-Indian hits of the year with Kiran establishing himself as an exceptional talent to watch out for.

SAPTHAMI GOWDA (Actor, Kantara)

Sapthami Gowda, who made her debut with Popcorn Monkey Tiger (2020), got a big breakthrough this year with the sensational hit, Kantara. Despite playing an underwritten character in an otherwise remarkable film, Sapthami left a strong impression with her spunky presence. It's just time before she cements her position in the top league, as offers are already flooding in from across the country.

TAMIL

PRADEEP RANGANATHAN (Actor-director, Love Today)

Though his directorial debut Comali (2019) was a bonafide success, it was his sophomore film, Love Today, which also launched him as a lead actor, that put Pradeep on the map. Delivering a supremely entertaining new-age love story, Pradeep shone not just as a filmmaker but also as an actor and lyricist. Marching past all the trolls, the youngster now finds himself at a place where there are serious talks about the possibility of him directing superstar Rajinikanth. How cool is that?

ADITI SHANKAR (Actor, Viruman)

Yes, Aditi broke into the scene as ace filmmaker Shankar's daughter. But it was not soon before she carved a niche for herself. With her debut outing Viruman, Aditi proved her skills as a feisty actor, a brilliant dancer, and a talented singer. Not to forget her jovial off-screen persona that made her a meme-favourite among netizens.

MALAYALAM

ABHINAV SUNDER NAYAK (Director, Mukundan Unni Associates)

Abhinav Sunder Nayak had cut his teeth in the industry as an editor on acclaimed films such as Aanandam (2016), Uriyadi (2016), and Godha (2017). A rare example of an insightful filmmaker who walks the talk, Abhinav's directorial debut Mukundan Unni Associates, featuring an unabashedly evil protagonist with no redeeming features, proved that one doesn't necessarily need a virtuous character to make a great film.

JITHIN THOMAS ISAAC (Director, Pra.Thoo.Mu, Attention Please)

Writer-director Jithin Issac Thomas first proved himself an inventive storyteller with his segment Pra.Thoo.Mu from the anthology Freedom Fight (2022). His formidable talent was further solidified with his full-length feature, Attention Please, later in 2022. Though wholly reliant on dialogues, the film was careful not to fall prey to the usual talking head cliches. The innovative storytelling and arresting performances ensured a rewarding experience.

TELUGU

VIMAL KRISHNA (Director, DJ Tillu)

Vimal, who has acted in a couple of films, broke into the Telugu cinema scene as a notable filmmaker this year. He directed DJ Tillu, one of the funniest and most successful Telugu films of 2022. The comedy caper, which he created with actor Siddhu Jonnalagadda, instantly positioned him as a filmmaker to keep an eye on.

THIRUVEER (Actor, Masooda)

After playing supporting roles in films like George Reddy (2019) and Tuck Jagadish (2021), actor Thiruveer got his big break in Masooda, which finally gave him his due as an actor. As the timid boy-next-door (literally) Gopi in Masooda, Thiruveer's performance is quite contrasting to his work in the aforementioned films and cements his position as one of the more promising talents of Telugu cinema.

HINDI

ACHINT THAKKAR (Composer, Monica, O My Darling)

Vasan Bala's Monica, O My Darling is indubitably Soundtrack of the Year. Young composer Achint Thakkar — who also worked on Scam 1992 and Rocket Boys — offers an embarrassment of winners, from retro earworms like 'Bye Bye Adios' and 'Suno Jaane Jaan' to the sublime 'Farsh Pe Khade Khade'. Bollywood music directors have been looking backwards for years. Few have displayed such originality and heart.

MOUNI ROY (Actor, Brahmastra Part One: Shiva)

Mouni Roy's impassioned performance as Junoon in Ayan Mukerji's superhero fantasy epic is exemplary. As the primary antagonist, she holds her own in face-offs with seasoned actors like Shah Rukh Khan and Amitabh Bachchan. She brings conviction to a part that revels in comic-book villainy. Hopefully, her fiery red eyes will make a reappearance in Part Two.
